DAILY GAZETTE.

A DEFENCE OF FREMONT.—We make the following extracts from a private letter received in this city, written by a gentleman of high integrity in constant communication with Gen. Fremont:—N. Y. Post.

"Just now it is impossible for the general to attend to anything not bearing directly on his expedition, and you have no idea of the number of men who are disappointed by not getting him to attend to their "little matters."

It is too bad that the New York papers should pitch into him as they do. He does not particularly care, but it makes him laugh to see the ridiculous falsity of certain of their reports and criticisms, and indignant that they expect a man to be efficient while they are working their best to ruin him.

The government wishes battles fought—but, with 150,000 men at Washington and the great east and middle states to draw from, takes from Fremont's little army 5,000 well armed men, and diverts thousands more from his meagre ranks.

The government wishes an army raised and equipped out west, but furnishes the western department no money.

The government wishes the rebellion put down, and when the chord is struck that vibrates joy to every loyal heart and fear to those of traitors, the cold hand comes down upon it with a harsh grating, and the music ceases and the people grieve.

The government is willing that the people should have the statement of affairs, but when Fremont telegraphs that Lexington has fallen, and gives the reasons why the reinforcements sent did not reach it, the government allows the first clause to be published and the reasons are suspended.

The papers are as bad. One asks why Mulligan could not get water if he were on the banks of a river! Is it impossible to imagine a fortified camp defending the land approaches to a point, and separated from the river by a hostile town?

Another says that Fremont's repeated blunders should be investigated by a court-martial. Who was court-martialed for Bethel and Bull Run?

Another thinks Fremont ought to leave the Mississippi alone till he has conquered Missouri. I wonder how Ohio and Illinois would like to see the rebels in possession of Cairo and the Ohio river, with power to push north and east.

I wonder how long southeastern Missouri and St. Louis would be safe with free entrance from the south!

The enemy have taken Lexington. I fervently pray they may be tempted to hold it, and advance further. I am mistaken if they do not get into a nut cracker.

If Fremont leaves the western department the Germans will be likely to lay down their arms. And if the government shall desire further armies from the west it will be compelled to draft."

A natural "fire and brimstone" work is in operation at Coso, southern California, though there is no evidence that the people are like those of Sodom and Gomorrah.—hot steam and sulphur are discharged through an infinite number of pipes by an active volcano. The sulphur, congealing, forms the pure brimstone of commerce, and is surrounded with a coating of pure alum. These wonderful springs cover about two acres of ground. The steam issuing from the pipes is so hot as to immediately blister the hand in coming in contact with it. The ground is generally so soft and hot that planks have to be used in crossing it. The discoverers of this profitable volcano are a couple of Yankees, named Brooks and Hart, and they claim a pre-emption right, for purposes of trade. The "infernal regions" would never daunt our money-making explorers.

VISIT OF THE REGIMENT TO THE CITY.—The promised visit of the 8th regiment to the city occurred this afternoon. The men wore their new overcoats and made a splendid appearance. Among the officers Col. Murphy and Lt. Col. Robbins especially excel as horsemen.

The eagle, borne in the centre of the bristling ranks, spreading his wings occasionally upon a sudden movement of his perch, was an object that attracted much attention.

After marching about the park, the regiment was drawn up in Wisconsin avenue in front of the capitol house, where they were addressed by Gov. Randall in a brief and appropriate speech.

After three cheers for Governor Randall, three for Quartermaster General Tredway, three for Paymaster Mills, and three more, with a prolonged tiger, for the ladies, the regiment again took up the line of march and returned to camp.

The 8th is in appearance the finest regiment that has yet gone from this state, and Wisconsin will never have cause to be otherwise than proud of them, unless we mistake the character of both men and officers.—Madison Journal.

SUICIDE OF DR. RIPLEY.—We were very much surprised last Saturday to hear that Dr. Ripley, for several years a resident of this city, had committed suicide by inflicting a number of wounds upon his breast one day last week, at his residence in Walworth county, Wisconsin. We understand that he had been very much depressed for several days in consequence of a trade he had made for a patent right of some kind which had proved a humbug. He had traded all or nearly all of his property for it, which was considerable, we understand, and the knowledge that he had beed swindled so operated upon him as to render him, it is stated, partially insane, and while in that state he inflicted such wounds upon his person as to cause his death, though not immediately as we are told, he lived several hours after the fatal wound was inflicted. We understand that his wife, an estimable woman, was absent at the time and only reached his bedside to see him die.—Rockford Democrat.

WM. B. ASTOR'S REGIMENT.—Capt. Chas. McKencie of Adrian, Michigan, an old soldier who served in the Black Hawk war passed through here on his way home, having received instructions to recruit a company for William B. Astor's regiment.

The company is to be organized and equipped at Mr. Astor's expense, who is using all endeavors to render it as fine a regiment as there is in the service.—Cleveland Herald.

The Knickerbocker tells of the last dodge for "raising the wind." Some fellow in Boston advertises that he will send "a finely engraved portrait of George Washington, and another of Benjamin Franklin, to any address, for one dollar." The purchaser receives in due time a three cent and a one cent postage stamp!

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

DAILY GAZETTE.

A DEFENCE OF FREMONT.—We make the following extracts from a private letter received in this city, written by a gentleman of high integrity in constant communication with Gen. Fremont:—N. Y. Post.

"Just now it is impossible for the general to attend to anything not bearing directly on his expedition, and you have no idea of the number of men who are disappointed by not getting him to attend to their "little matters."

It is too bad that the New York papers should pitch into him as they do. He does not particularly care, but it makes him laugh to see the ridiculous falsity of certain of their reports and criticisms, and indignant that they expect a man to be efficient while they are working their best to ruin him.

The government wishes battles fought—but, with 150,000 men at Washington and the great east and middle states to draw from, takes from Fremont's little army 5,000 well armed men, and diverts thousands more from his meagre ranks.

The government wishes an army raised and equipped out west, but furnishes the western department no money.

The government wishes the rebellion put down, and when the chord is struck that vibrates joy to every loyal heart and fear to those of traitors, the cold hand comes down upon it with a harsh grating, and the music ceases and the people grieve.

The government is willing that the people should have the statement of affairs, but when Fremont telegraphs that Lexington has fallen, and gives the reasons why the reinforcements sent did not reach it, the government allows the first clause to be published and the reasons are suspended.

The papers are as bad. One asks why Mulligan could not get water if he were on the banks of a river! Is it impossible to imagine a fortified camp defending the land approaches to a point, and separated from the river by a hostile town?

Another says that Fremont's repeated blunders should be investigated by a court-martial. Who was court-martialed for Bethel and Bull Run?

Another thinks Fremont ought to leave the Mississippi alone till he has conquered Missouri. I wonder how Ohio and Illinois would like to see the rebels in possession of Cairo and the Ohio river, with power to push north and east.

I wonder how long southeastern Missouri and St. Louis would be safe with free entrance from the south!

The enemy have taken Lexington. I fervently pray they may be tempted to hold it, and advance further. I am mistaken if they do not get into a nut cracker.

If Fremont leaves the western department the Germans will be likely to lay down their arms. And if the government shall desire further armies from the west it will be compelled to draft."

A natural "fire and brimstone" work is in operation at Coso, southern California, though there is no evidence that the people are like those of Sodom and Gomorrah.—hot steam and sulphur are discharged through an infinite number of pipes by an active volcano. The sulphur, congealing, forms the pure brimstone of commerce, and is surrounded with a coating of pure alum. These wonderful springs cover about two acres of ground. The steam issuing from the pipes is so hot as to immediately blister the hand in coming in contact with it. The ground is generally so soft and hot that planks have to be used in crossing it. The discoverers of this profitable volcano are a couple of Yankees, named Brooks and Hart, and they claim a pre-emption right, for purposes of trade. The "infernal regions" would never daunt our money-making explorers.

VISIT OF THE REGIMENT TO THE CITY.—The promised visit of the 8th regiment to the city occurred this afternoon. The men wore their new overcoats and made a splendid appearance. Among the officers Col. Murphy and Lt. Col. Robbins especially excel as horsemen.

The eagle, borne in the centre of the bristling ranks, spreading his wings occasionally upon a sudden movement of his perch, was an object that attracted much attention.

After marching about the park, the regiment was drawn up in Wisconsin avenue in front of the capitol house, where they were addressed by Gov. Randall in a brief and appropriate speech.

After three cheers for Governor Randall, three for Quartermaster General Tredway, three for Paymaster Mills, and three more, with a prolonged tiger, for the ladies, the regiment again took up the line of march and returned to camp.

The 8th is in appearance the finest regiment that has yet gone from this state, and Wisconsin will never have cause to be otherwise than proud of them, unless we mistake the character of both men and officers. —Madison Journal.

SUICIDE OF DR. RIPLEY.—We were very much surprised last Saturday to hear that Dr. Ripley, for several years a resident of this city, had committed suicide by inflicting a number of wounds upon his breast one day last week, at his residence in Walworth county, Wisconsin. We understand that he had been very much depressed for several days in consequence of a trade he had made for a patent right of some kind which had proved a humbug. He had traded all or nearly all of his property for it, which was considerable, we understand, and the knowledge that he had beed swindled so operated upon him as to render him, it is stated, partially insane, and while in that state he inflicted such wounds upon his person as to cause his death, though not immediately as we are told, he lived several hours after the fatal wound was inflicted. We understand that his wife, an estimable woman, was absent at the time and only reached his bedside to see him die.—Rockford Democrat.

WM. B. ASTOR'S REGIMENT.—Capt. Chas. McKencie of Adrian, Michigan, an old soldier who served in the Black Hawk war passed through here on his way home, having received instructions to recruit a company for William B. Astor's regiment.

The company is to be organized and equipped at Mr. Astor's expense, who is using all endeavors to render it as fine a regiment as there is in the service.—Cleveland Herald.

The Knickerbocker tells of the last dodge for "raising the wind." Some fellow in Boston advertises that he will send "a finely engraved portrait of George Washington, and another of Benjamin Franklin, to any address, for one dollar." The purchaser receives in due time a three cent and a one cent postage stamp!

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

☞ Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

Is Washington Safe?

According to the most reliable information to be obtained, there was around Washington a week ago, an army of about 240,000 men, and it may safely be set down at 250,000 at this time. There are in the vicinity of Washington twenty-nine forts and three stationary batteries, most of them probably well entrenched and mounted. With these fortifications it is estimated by good judges that 40,000 men would be an ample force to guard the national capital, provided portions of the rebel army are withdrawn, as it seems probable they must be, to protect their coast, now exposed to an easy attack from our forces at almost every point. If our figures are correct, and we have the utmost confidence that they are, there can be no two ways in the answer to our caption: "WASHINGTON IS SAFE!"

Some of our readers may be curious enough to push the inquiry further and ask if a few from this surplus force of 200,000 men could not now be safely spared for offensive operations, or to reinforce important points in other portions of the country now seriously menaced by the enemy, and evidently held by an inadequate force.—Among these, western Virginia and various points in Kentucky and Missouri might be mentioned. These places unquestionably need strengthening, and if these inquiries are not strictly proper in the present state of the country, they are certainly significant.

We have it from the best authority—from persons direct from the south, and from their own newspapers, that all the principal places in the rebel states upon the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico are in an utterly defenceless condition. A formidable attack upon any of them would be sure of success. Such a movement, if it had no other good effect, would confirm the fears the rebel leaders already entertain, and cause them to suspend all offensive operations, and withdraw their forces from Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, leaving the conquest of these states an easy one for our forces, giving us the power not only of cleaning out these states of rebels, but of holding them until they got sufficiently strong to protect themselves. We hope to learn soon that such suggestions have been anticipated by our government, and that expeditions are already on the way to accomplish these desirable objects.

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

Speech of a Tennessee Clergyman on the War.

Rev. W. B. Carter, who left Tennessee with many other loyalists when the storm of secession swept over the state, addressed an enthusiastic meeting in Cincinnati, recently, in which he said: "That great king, Jeff. Davis—I don't call him 'your excellency,' as Mr. Nelson does, [laughter,] and I don't call him President Davis—what does he do? His congress passed a law giving us poor dogs forty days to leave our country—forty days to leave or submit. Get on the train and go down to Camp Robinson, where you will find fifteen hundred or two thousand men who were rich the other day—without a cent in their pockets—men who were reared in every comfort and luxury—without a change of raiment. I can show you men among them who have travelled over hard and rough roads fifty miles in a single day to escape their pursuers. Has any man in Ohio travelled fifty miles on foot to volunteer in defense of the flag? These men have done it. Every man of them is sworn to defend the stars and stripes. Some of them were shot down by the pursuing cavalry, and died in the Cumberland Mountains. But, thank God, the Cumberland Mountains also contain the bones of traitors. I have seen fathers in Eastern Tennessee hide their little store of bread and meat, to feed their little ones. The rebels have overrun our fields of grain and destroyed them as with a besom of destruction. Oh! my God, when will the day of retribution come? What think you of these things, freemen of Cincinnati? But notwithstanding all our sufferings and all our trials—notwithstanding all our poverty, I am thankful to-night that I am a native of East Tennessee. I am glad—I thank God for it—that my fate for weal or woe has been cast with such a people. Now, what is the position of East Tennessee? I know that she has the admiration of our country, and justly so. There she is, sitting with a population of three hundred thousand, bound in upon the east by the traitorous state of Virginia, upon the south by North Carolina—and I am glad to say that in North Carolina there are many noble hearts who long to see the good old flag, and to rally under its folds. There, upon the west, is middle Tennessee, and upon the north we have the border of good old friendly Kentucky—our only source of salvation, in our present troubles.

On the slavery question, Mr. Carter said: "If in the course of this war—and I say it notwithstanding a portion of all I once owned in this world—for I do not know that to-night I own anything—if in the progress of this war it becomes necessary for the salvation of this government and the preservation of the union of these states that African slavery shall die, in the name of high Heaven, I say let it perish. [Loud and long continued cheering.] I tell you honestly that the negro has, in my estimation, nothing more to do with this trouble in our country, except in one aspect—it has no more to do with these troubles than the man in the moon. [Applause.] There is one aspect, and I will briefly refer to it. It is this: The southern leaders never did have the least fear that our government would interfere with our vested rights in the slave states. They know very well that congress cannot do it. There are fifteen slave states in the Union. There would have to be full forty-five free states before the constitution could be altered so as to interfere with slavery—twenty-six free states would have to be added to the Union. While the north would be doing this the south would make three or four states out of Texas, and so on. No, this is not what they fear. But there is an aspect on which this slavery question does influence the southern mind—the southern leaders. I will tell you what they are afraid of. They are not afraid of this great government interfering with them, as appears from the fact that the institution was safer when we were all together than it is to-day. Here is what they are afraid of. They have learned by experience that pro-slavery ideas will not travel towards the north pole, but that anti-slavery ideas will travel southward. They are afraid that the people of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, may take it into their heads to abolish slavery in their domain, and they want to make a government in which the people can't rid themselves of it if they wish."

A DARING DEED.—An incident has come to our knowledge connected with the warfare in Western Virginia that is well worth relating. Shortly after the battle of Carnifax Ferry, and about the time of the death of Col. John A. Washington, the enemy became very bold and insolent, and not only shot our pickets and attacked our scouting parties even when in large force, but did not hesitate to appear before our entrenchments and menace our entire army. At that time communication was cut off between our camp at Elkwater and that at Cheat Mountain Summit, the rebels holding possession of the road. It was necessary that communication should be re-established between Gen. Reynolds at the former place and Col. Kimball at the latter. Several attempts had been made, but the messengers had been killed in every case.—Four had already set out and had been picked off. The whole camp at Elkwater was in danger, and it was necessary to get word to the Summit at once, and another young man volunteered, but he, too, was never heard from after he left camp. The commanding officer then stated to his men their danger, and called upon some one to again volunteer to perform the risk. Not a man responded in all the camp, until at last one was found in Capt. Loomis' Michigan battery. A young man named Henry H. Norrington, of Detroit, and well known in the city, offered to peril his life to save the others. He started out and succeeded in eluding the enemy, crawling miles upon his hands and knees, with his messages rolled up and in his mouth ready to swallow in a moment if he was taken, and finally reached the friendly camp.

He also had to return, and, after receiving his dispatches, set out in the night, the whole camp shaking hands with him, never expecting to see him again. He traveled all night, guided by the north star, and the next day crawled as before on his hands and knees. He finally struck the main road a few miles below Elkwater. Seeing one of the enemy's cavalry horses tied to a stake by the roadside, and the owner not visible, he crept up, cut the rope with his knife, and rode off in hot haste, with several shot whizzing around him. He arrived safely in camp and delivered his dispatches, being the only survivor of the six that had attempted the perilous task.

As a reward for his bravery and daring, he was promoted in the company to be chief of a piece, and was placed upon the commanding general's staff as mounted orderly. He was presented by the captain of his company with a sword, and, by the general with an elegant revolver. He was greeted upon the parade with nine cheers by the entire command, and his pay more than doubled. Besides this, favorable mention was made of his feat and the great service he had performed, in the official report forwarded to the department at Washington.—Detroit Free Press.

The New Lisbon Argus says the cranberry market is active at that place, berries selling at from sixty-five to eighty cents per bushel.

Last Night's Report.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Times.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.

Jefferson City continues very quiet—the alarm about the burning of the Gasconade bridge is entirely over.

It is now said that the report of an advance of rebels on Herman was merely the result of a panic, that no secessionists were visible anywhere in the vicinity.

The communication between here and St. Louis is perfectly safe.

Four federals, of Col. Peabody's command, arrived here this evening from Lexington, having left that place on Saturday night.

There were still a number of secession stragglers in the town, and a report was circulated among them that a portion of the rebels had been cut off, while retreating south, by Sigel, and five hundred taken prisoners. This story is evidently incorrect.

Cols. White and Grover are still at Lexington.

The former is said to be slowly recovering, and the latter to be in a very dangerous state.

The four men who came all the way down the Missouri in a skiff, say they observed no batteries nor bodies of rebels at any point.

They heard of a secession camp at Brunswick, but did not see it.

Further reports state that Price continues to make rapid progress southward, tho' it is thought the swollen condition of the Osage will impede his retreat.

Many think Fremont will overtake him, but it is probable that he will not do so until the rebel body reaches the state line.

The secessionists at Springfield declare that if they are compelled to desert the town they will burn it to the ground.

An officer of Col. Ellis' west Missouri cavalry informs me that three of their regiment were taken prisoners near Tipton by rebel scouts, last night, and their comrades are now endeavoring to recapture them.

Georgetown and Sedalia were very quiet at last accounts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Reconnoisances to-day, under the immediate direction of Gen. McClellan, demonstrate that the confederates are in very strong force in about their former positions, stretching from Leesburgh, through Fairfax, along the Occocquan river, and a short distance down the Potomac.

Their forces number certainly one hundred and fifty thousand, and some estimates say as high as two hundred thousand men.

The government made arrangements today with several iron foundries at Pittsburgh to insure a largely increased supply of cannon during the next two months.

Hon. J. F. Potter, chairman of the investigating committee of the house of representatives, on the 8th inst., called the attention of the navy department to a statement in the newspapers, that Capt. J. H. Morrison, of the steamer Fanny, which was captured by the rebels off Cape Hatteras, was imprisoned at Fortress Monroe for refusing to take the oath of allegiance, and inquired if the statement was true in whole or part. The department to day replies as follows:

NAVY DEPARTMENT, Oct. 9.

SIR—Your letter of the 8th inst., relative to the newspaper reports concerning the master of the steamer Fanny, has been received. The steamer alluded to was not, at the time of her capture, in the service of this department, and has never been employed by it, and the same may be said of the captain. This department has no knowledge of him whatever, and I have no reason to suppose that, at the time of the capture of the Fanny, a single person in any way connected with the navy was on board of her. Very resp'ly yours, &c.

GIDEON WELLES.

Gen. Hancock's brigade, which is a part of Gen. W. F. Smith's division, at the Chain Bridge, advanced and took position near Lewinsville. After waiting three hours, inviting an attack, our skirmishers advanced and took possession of Lewinsville, the rebels retreating.

A slave was restored to his master yesterday by a Pennsylvania regiment. A file of soldiers escorted the pseudo contraband two miles beyond our lines.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.

Dr. Hayes, of the Polar expedition, arrived here this morning in the United States. The party are all well. Two have died, namely: August Sontag, the astronomer, and Gibson Carothers. Dr. Hayes reached Smith's Straits on the 26th of August, last year, but could not penetrate the straits with his vessel either last season or this. He wintered at Port Fonke, near Alexander, and with dogs and sleds, reached lat. 81° 35′ May 18th, this year.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.

Brownson's article on emancipation, has been published for free distribution among the Irish.

Several officers, released on parole from Lexington, left to-day on a visit to Chicago.

The city foundries, during the past week or two, have been busily engaged in turning out shot and shell of all sizes, for government use.

News from Springfield states that wagons and negroes continue to pass there on the way south.

A fight took place in Holt county, between a squadron of United States cavalry, 56 strong, under Lieut. Tyler, and 200 rebels, under Capt. Ish. The latter were routed, with the loss of eight or ten.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

The policy of the government in regard to employing foreigners in the military service is as follows, the statement being made on good authority: First, no one has been authorized to enlist or raise troops in Canada, as has been affirmed to be understood there; second, no commissions have been offered, or other overtures made, to military men in France or other European states, as has been assumed there; third, the government has not tendered the command of the army to Gen. Garibaldi, as has been represented in Europe. What is true is—first, that every foreigner who has come with a good character and credentials, and offered his services to the government in support of the Union, has been accepted, and no other is in the military employment of the United States: second, Gen. Garibaldi, being a naturalized citizen, it was reported to the government by one of our consuls that the general was contemplating a visit to this country, and that he had intimated conditionally a disposition to engage in the service of the United States. He was informed that, if this was so, his services would be accepted with pleasure, and he would receive a commission as major general, being the same rank which was conferred on Gen. Lafayette in the war of the Revolution. Gen. Garibaldi, upon consideration of the subject, has concluded not to offer his services at present, but thinks he may by-and-by visit the United States.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Lewinsville will be retained as well as the other positions taken by our forces today. A portion of the troops under Brig. Gen. Porter, also advanced and occupied Minor's Hill, to the right of Falls Church, and commanding that village and Barret's Hill. The latter is now in possession of the rebel pickets.

Gen. McClellan and staff, accompanied by Capt. Barker's dragoons, crossed over the chain bridge at an early hour this morning, spending the whole day in making reconnoisance of the new positions taken by the federal troops.

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Capt. Barney, of the 24th New York, advanced three miles beyond Falls Church, on the Leesburg turnpike, with ten men, where he surprised a picket guard of Col. Stewart's rebel cavalry. Three of them were killed and one taken prisoner. They also captured five horses equipped, thirteen navy pistols and one carbine and one telescope. The horse killed was a white one, which has often been seen by our pickets, and is believed to belong to Capt. Powell of Stewart's cavalry. The capture took place within half a mile of the enemy's camps.

No official returns are obtainable but the impression is that the people's ticket has a majority in the Philadelphia camps.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Commander Chauncey arrived here this evening from Hatteras Inlet. He reports that on Monday the rebels organized an expedition to attack and recapture the forts occupied by our forces. The expedition consisted of six steamboats and three thousand men. The steamers were armed with heavy rifled cannon and mortars for throwing shells. The attack was simultaneous but ineffectual. The forts fired shells and were assisted by the vessels stationed off the Inlet. After a time the rebels retired, though not before two or three steamers had been sunk, going down with all on board. Judging from the crowded appearance of the vessels, it is estimated that about seven hundred men were drowned, besides a large loss must have been sustained from the bursting of our shells and the plunging of our shot, as the guns were served in most masterly manner.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Tribune's dispatch.—There is reason to believe in the report from New Orleans, via Richmond, announcing the presence of national vessels at the head passes of the Mississippi. They are doubtless acting under instructions given long since, and engaged in protecting the men building batteries on each side of the river above the point where the five mouths diverge, for the purpose of effectually blockading them all. The guns to be mounted are probably the twenty eight 9-inch Dahlgreens which were ordered for Pickens, and not being required there were put ashore at Tortugas. The Mississippi will be effectually closed by these batteries; twenty vessels could not do it so well.

The Potter investigating committee adjourned to-day. The first report includes the names of 237 employees against whom evidence of treason was presented. To-morrow the second report will be presented giving 235 more. Investigations will probably be renewed at the commencement of the session of congress.

Five colonels stand ready to command five regiments of Illinois cavalry to be raised, which is pressed upon the war department by Gov. Yates and others. The department is willing to accept one and the others as infantry. The cavalry regiment of Col. Barrett is accepted, to serve on the Indiana frontier. The Illinoisians are also pressing the claims of Chicago for the western arsenal.

Brigham Young has lost the Utah Valley, one of the most fertile in Utah, after having announced his intention to settle it with Saints. The President, by an order dated October, has directed an Indian reservation to be made there.

The Secretary of War and the Adjutant General left this city for St. Louis on Tuesday.

Herald's dispatch.—If there is any desire for a fight by the rebels, it is very likely they will be gratified to-morrow, not only in front but up and down the river.

Deserters from the rebel camp and our scouts corroborate the opinion that the rebel army is not disposed to make an advance upon our lines, or to accept the proffered battle.

The dispatches to the war department to-day are more encouraging than heretofore in regard to the movements of Gen. Fremont in Missouri.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.

The election of the city council to-day was very quietly conducted. The rebels made no opposition. The whole Union ticket was elected.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

ELKWATER, VA., Oct 10.

Gen. Reynolds has made two reconnoisances in force, within the last few days, against Gen. Lee, and has driven him from Big Spring. A part of the army under Gen. Lee is said to have joined Floyd at Big Spring. They destroyed their camp equippage and ammunition, and burned several hundred muskets, and left their wagons, &c. The road is absolutely impassable for wagons, beyond a point of twelve miles from Elkwater.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

It was Col. Brainsted of the 1st Georgia regiment who was killed near Hatteras Inlet. Col. Brown, of the 20th indiana, states that his loss in killed, wounded, &c., is not less than 70. In retreating the enemy captured military stores and a considerable number of arms, knapsacks and tents. The regiment had no other weapons than muskets. The rebel rendezvous is Roanoke Island, about 12 miles from the scene of action, and well fortified. It has been determined at Fort Monroe to use all exertions to augment the strength of our forces on the North Carolina coast.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.

The Commercial's Kanawha advices say Gen. Rosecranz is at Mountain Cove, a strong position 25 miles beyond Gauley.—He had advanced 10 miles further to Little Sewall, but the enemy was too well entrenched and too strong at Big Sewall. Rosecranz fell back as an invitation to the enemy to come out and have a fair fight.—There was no expectation of an attempt by the enemy to force his position. The weather in Gauley region is terribly bad, rain falls almost incessantly. Rosecranz's troops are well clothed, having plenty of overcoats and blankets. The fight at Chapmansville was a sharp and bloody affair, five of Piatt's Zouaves were killed. Rebel loss 35 killed.

A dispatch from Gen. Reynolds to Gov. Morton, dated Hunterville, the 8th, says:—The enemy in our front in Hunterville has been driven to Green Bave Springs, twenty miles beyond Big Springs, their late rendezvous. They are about fifty miles from Elkwater, and twelve from Cheat Mountain.—The roads towards Hunterville are impassable for wheels. The enemy destroyed hundreds of muskets, tents, camp equippage, &c.; several wagons fell into our hands.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.

Special to the Post.—The Bank of Washington refuses to take the treasury notes. The bank has not redeemed its own issue since last fall, and congress will probably close the disloyal concern next winter.

A Union newspaper has just been issued at Alexandria.

Several government contractors for army blankets have failed to comply with their agreements.

Seven thousand tons of Cumberland coal were brought down by canal during the month of September.

Gen. Harney is expected to arrive to-day.

The frigate Pensacola goes down to Alexandria to-day, but will not be ready for sea for several weeks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

The Post says there is not a word of truth in the Times' dispatch about one hundred rebels being drowned by the fire of the Monticello, near Hatteras Inlet.

FORT MONROE, Oct 9.

The tug Young America, while sounding the channel of James river yesterday, exchanged a few shots with Pig Point battery. Several shells exploded near her but did no harm.

The Union gun is now mounted so as to sweep the road between Fortress Monroe and Sewell's Point.

Gen. Wool and Quartermaster Tallmadge have recommenced quartering troops at Old Point and Newport News for the winter, in comfortable wooden houses built to accommodate two or three companies each. Similar quarters will soon be erected for contrabands.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

Flour market slightly favors buyers; sales 10,000 bbls. 5,25a5,35 super state, 5,45a5,65 extra state, 5,25a5,35 super western, 5,45a5,70 common to medium extra western. Wheat market 1a2c lower; sales 70,000 bu. 1,17a1,18 Milwaukee club, 1,20 amber Iowa.

A FIGHTING CLERGYMAN.—Rev. B. C. Ward, pastor of a Congregational church in the village of Genesseo, Illinois, conceives it to be his duty to forsake the pulpit for the field. He has received authority to raise a company of infantry, but proposes to enlist clergymen only. An appeal to his clerical brethren, published over his own signature, calls upon "the fighting stock of the church militant" to prove to the world their willingness to "seal with their blood what they have talked in their pulpits," and closes with this extraordinary passage:

"Much as we have done and said to prove our loyalty, we have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin. Shall we now, at the call of Christ, come out from behind our velvet cushioned barracks, whence we have so often hurled bold, indignant words at the giant iniquity of the age, and meet it face to face with the hot shot of rifled artillery, with the gleaming bayonet, or with clashing sabres in a hand to hand encounter?"

"Parson" Brownlow, of Tennessee, has hitherto borne the title of the "fighting parson," but he has never gone so far as this Illinois clergyman, and Mr. Ward is clearly entitled to wear the honors.

PLUCKY KANSAS.—This young state seems to be like a Kilkenny cat, all fight. She has furnished, complete or nearly full, nine regiments for the war, besides turning out thirty day men when an emergency required, and every able bodied man in the state is said to be undergoing drill, and ready for fight. Kansas has some old scores with the border ruffians of Missouri to pay off, the accumulation of which trained her men for fighting, and the recollection of which doubtless gives a keen edge to her patriotism. The Missouri secessionists are of the same breed that furnished the border ruffians, therefore the retributive justice can hardly go amiss among them.

SOLD AS A SLAVE.—We learn from the best authority, that John May, a young light-colored multatto, who formerly worked in Yancey's barber shop, and who went as cook in Capt McNulty's cavalry company, and with them captured at Lexington, Mo., has been carried off and sold as a slave down on Red River, Arkansas. This intelligence comes in a letter from him to his friends in this place. The peculiar institution which cherishes in its bosom men of the principle which permits them to do a deed like the foregoing certainly ought to be preserved.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

FREE NEGRO CONTRIBUTIONS.—A number of the "First gentlemen" of Charleston have negro children, whom they have liberated and assisted in business. Among these may be mentioned the proprietor of a machine shop named Weston, who is reputed to be worth $80,000; Deriff, a wood factor, $60,000; Howard, a wood and brick factor, $30,000. Another Weston has a large tailoring establishment, employing some twenty colored tailors, is quite wealthy. All these men are made to contribute largely to the fund for the army, and subscriptions were also exacted from the more humble of the free colored population.

OPERATIONS ON ENFIELD RIFLES.—A correspondent of the London Merchants Magazine, states that in the completed Enfield rifle there are 61 different parts, and in the production of these parts and finishing one rifle 800 different machines are used. About 350 rifles are finished per day, and 2,000 operatives are employed. One out of every four rifles is fitted with a sword bayonet, the rest with the common musket bayonet. Some of Terry's breech-loading carbines are being made at present for cavalry at Enfield.

Capt. Requa, of the First regiment, has resigned his command of the Stedman Guards in consequence of physical disability. Calling his company together in Camp Scott, he informed them of his resignation and made an affecting speech, when they all knelt down and he offered up a soul-stirring prayer in their behalf. The boys had all learned to love him and parted with him with regret. A new election was then held, and 1st Lieutenant Adams elected captain, and all the rest of the officers promoted one step.—Daily Life.

COST OF EQUIPMENT.—We learn from General Tredway, that the cost of equipping the 7th regiment, exclusive of arms and accoutrements, is $43,045,25, and of the 8th, $42,560,42. The average cost of the regiments so far equipped, is about $46,600. The excess in the average is caused by the expensive manner in which the first regiments were provided for, thro' inexperience and greeness in the business.—Madison Patriot.

R. D. Ketchum, of Portage was killed on Thursday of last week, by accidentally alling from a steamboat wharf at Wanpaca. A steamer was lying at the wharf, and he was crushed against the latter.

COST OF MUSIC.—The secretary of war is becoming impatient with the expense of bands of music for the army, as it already amounts to a sum that will make this single item of expenditure four million dollars a year.

A TRUE PATRIOT.—Mr. Flannigan, of the town of Cascade, sixty years old, has furnished five sons who have become soldiers—three in Wisconsin regiments, and two in Missouri, and he says he will go himself if it is necessary.

COL. DOUSMAN DECLINED.—We are authorized to say that Col. H. L. Dousman positively and unqualifiedly refuses to be a candidate for state treasurer, and that if elected he would not accept the office.—Wisconsin.

PILGRIMS TO THE LAND OF FREEDOM.—Quite a stream of teams, cattle, families, etc., came over from Missouri to-day, and put off for the interior counties of Illinois, where they can be safe from the depredations of secession. Many of them avow their determination to return and fight for the Union after their families are in safe quarters, but a Missouri friend who is pretty well posted on matters there says they generally do not return. The Hegira of so many Union and non-combatting people from north-east Missouri as the last few months have witnessed, explains in part why Matt Green has carried such a high hand there. If the Union men valued their known rights as much as the traitors do their imagined ones, Missouri would present a better aspect to-day.—Quincy Whig.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Munson, the proprietor of Munson's Hill, in Virginia, from which the rebels have just retreated, has been, with his daughter, spending several days at Salisbury, Connecticut. His farm embraces about two hundred acres. He was compelled to leave it after the retreat of our troops from Bull Run. His son, who remained behind for a few days, had his horse shot under him by the rebels, when he was finally compelled to fly, but escaped himself unharmed. The whole family are devoted to the Union, and Mr. M. was one of the very few persons in that vicinity who voted for Lincoln at the last election. His house and barns have all been burned.

LARGE HAUL OF CONTRABAND GOODS.—Within the past three or four days the government agents in this city have discovered and secured, in transitu, goods and property bound south, to give aid and comfort to the rebel army, valued at over fifty thousand dollars. The property was found partly here and partly in Quincy. More is yet in process of being secured, and particulars cannot at present be given without danger of periling the government interests. This is a large haul, will prove of great service to the Union cause, and at the same time act in a perfectly satisfactory manner upon the purse of the enemy.—Chicago Times.

Is Washington Safe?

According to the most reliable information to be obtained, there was around Washington a week ago, an army of about 240,000 men, and it may safely be set down at 250,000 at this time. There are in the vicinity of Washington twenty-nine forts and three stationary batteries, most of them probably well entrenched and mounted. With these fortifications it is estimated by good judges that 40,000 men would be an ample force to guard the national capital, provided portions of the rebel army are withdrawn, as it seems probable they must be, to protect their coast, now exposed to an easy attack from our forces at almost every point. If our figures are correct, and we have the utmost confidence that they are, there can be no two ways in the answer to our caption: "WASHINGTON IS SAFE!"

Some of our readers may be curious enough to push the inquiry further and ask if a few from this surplus force of 200,000 men could not now be safely spared for offensive operations, or to reinforce important points in other portions of the country now seriously menaced by the enemy, and evidently held by an inadequate force.—Among these, western Virginia and various points in Kentucky and Missouri might be mentioned. These places unquestionably need strengthening, and if these inquiries are not strictly proper in the present state of the country, they are certainly significant.

We have it from the best authority—from persons direct from the south, and from their own newspapers, that all the principal places in the rebel states upon the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico are in an utterly defenceless condition. A formidable attack upon any of them would be sure of success. Such a movement, if it had no other good effect, would confirm the fears the rebel leaders already entertain, and cause them to suspend all offensive operations, and withdraw their forces from Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, leaving the conquest of these states an easy one for our forces, giving us the power not only of cleaning out these states of rebels, but of holding them until they got sufficiently strong to protect themselves. We hope to learn soon that such suggestions have been anticipated by our government, and that expeditions are already on the way to accomplish these desirable objects.

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

Speech of a Tennessee Clergyman on the War.

Rev. W. B. Carter, who left Tennessee with many other loyalists when the storm of secession swept over the state, addressed an enthusiastic meeting in Cincinnati, recently, in which he said: "That great king, Jeff. Davis—I don't call him 'your excellency,' as Mr. Nelson does, [laughter,] and I don't call him President Davis—what does he do? His congress passed a law giving us poor dogs forty days to leave our country—forty days to leave or submit. Get on the train and go down to Camp Robinson, where you will find fifteen hundred or two thousand men who were rich the other day—without a cent in their pockets—men who were reared in every comfort and luxury—without a change of raiment. I can show you men among them who have travelled over hard and rough roads fifty miles in a single day to escape their pursuers. Has any man in Ohio travelled fifty miles on foot to volunteer in defense of the flag? These men have done it. Every man of them is sworn to defend the stars and stripes. Some of them were shot down by the pursuing cavalry, and died in the Cumberland Mountains. But, thank God, the Cumberland Mountains also contain the bones of traitors. I have seen fathers in Eastern Tennessee hide their little store of bread and meat, to feed their little ones. The rebels have overrun our fields of grain and destroyed them as with a besom of destruction. Oh! my God, when will the day of retribution come? What think you of these things, freemen of Cincinnati? But notwithstanding all our sufferings and all our trials—notwithstanding all our poverty, I am thankful to-night that I am a native of East Tennessee. I am glad—I thank God for it—that my fate for weal or woe has been cast with such a people. Now, what is the position of East Tennessee? I know that she has the admiration of our country, and justly so. There she is, sitting with a population of three hundred thousand, bound in upon the east by the traitorous state of Virginia, upon the south by North Carolina—and I am glad to say that in North Carolina there are many noble hearts who long to see the good old flag, and to rally under its folds. There, upon the west, is middle Tennessee, and upon the north we have the border of good old friendly Kentucky—our only source of salvation, in our present troubles.

On the slavery question, Mr. Carter said: "If in the course of this war—and I say it notwithstanding a portion of all I once owned in this world—for I do not know that to-night I own anything—if in the progress of this war it becomes necessary for the salvation of this government and the preservation of the union of these states that African slavery shall die, in the name of high Heaven, I say let it perish. [Loud and long continued cheering.] I tell you honestly that the negro has, in my estimation, nothing more to do with this trouble in our country, except in one aspect—it has no more to do with these troubles than the man in the moon. [Applause.] There is one aspect, and I will briefly refer to it. It is this: The southern leaders never did have the least fear that our government would interfere with our vested rights in the slave states. They know very well that congress cannot do it. There are fifteen slave states in the Union. There would have to be full forty-five free states before the coustitution could be altered so as to interfere with slavery—twenty-six free states would have to be added to the Union. While the north would be doing this the south would make three or four states out of Texas, and so on. No, this is not what they fear. But there is an aspect on which this slavery question does influence the southern mind—the southern leaders. I will tell you what they are afraid of. They are not afraid of this great government interfering with them, as appears from the fact that the institution was safer when we were all together than it is to-day. Here is what they are afraid of. They have learned by experience that proslavery ideas will not travel towards the north pole, but that anti-slavery ideas will travel southward. They are afraid that the people of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, may take it into their heads to abolish slavery in their domain, and they want to make a government in which the people can't rid themselves of it if they wish."

A DARING DEED.—An incident has come to our knowledge connected with the warfare in Western Virginia that is well worth relating. Shortly after the battle of Carnifax Ferry, and about the time of the death of Col. John A. Washington, the enemy became very bold and insolent, and not only shot our pickets and attacked our scouting parties even when in large force, but did not hesitate to appear before our entrenchments and menace our entire army. At that time communication was cut off between our camp at Elkwater and that at Cheat Mountain Summit, the rebels holding possession of the road. It was necessary that communication should be re-established between Gen. Reynolds at the former place and Col. Kimball at the latter. Several attempts had been made, but the messengers had been killed in every case.—Four had already set out and had been picked off. The whole camp at Elkwater was in danger, and it was necessary to get word to the Summit at once, and another young man volunteered, but he, too, was never heard from after he left camp. The commanding officer then stated to his men their danger, and called upon some one to again volunteer to perform the risk. Not a man responded in all the camp, until at last one was found in Capt. Loomis' Michigan battery. A young man named Henry H. Norrington, of Detroit, and well known in the city, offered to peril his life to save the others. He started out and succeeded in eluding the enemy, crawling miles upon his hands and knees, with his messages rolled up and in his mouth ready to swallow in a moment if he was taken, and finally reached the friendly camp.

He also had to return, and, after receiving his dispatches, set out in the night, the whole camp shaking hands with him, never expecting to see him again. He traveled all night, guided by the north star, and the next day crawled as before on his hands and knees. He finally struck the main road a few miles below Elkwater. Seeing one of the enemy's cavalry horses tied to a stake by the roadside, and the owner not visible, he crept up, cut the rope with his knife, and rode off in hot haste, with several shot whizzing around him. He arrived safely in camp and delivered his dispatches, being the only survivor of the six that had attempted the perilous task.

As a reward for his bravery and daring, he was promoted in the company to be chief of a piece, and was placed upon the commanding general's staff as mounted orderly. He was presented by the captain of his company with a sword, and, by the general with an elegant revolver. He was greeted upon the parade with nine cheers by the entire command, and his pay more than doubled. Besides this, favorable mention was made of his feat and the great service he had performed, in the official report forwarded to the department at Washington.—Detroit Free Press.

The New Lisbon Argus says the cranberry market is active at that place, berries selling at from sixty-five to eighty cents per bushel.

Last Night's Report.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Times.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.

Jefferson City continues very quiet—the alarm about the burning of the Gasconade bridge is entirely over.

It is now said that the report of an advance of rebels on Herman was merely the result of a panic, that no secessionists were visible anywhere in the vicinity.

The communication between here and St. Louis is perfectly safe.

Four federals, of Col. Peabody's command, arrived here this evening from Lexington, having left that place on Saturday night.

There were still a number of secession stragglers in the town, and a report was circulated among them that a portion of the rebels had been cut off, while retreating south, by Sigel, and five hundred taken prisoners. This story is evidently incorrect.

Cols. White and Grover are still at Lexington.

The former is said to be slowly recovering, and the latter to be in a very dangerous state.

The four men who came all the way down the Missouri in a skiff, say they observed no batteries nor bodies of rebels at any point.

They heard of a secession camp at Brunswick, but did not see it.

Further reports state that Price continues to make rapid progress southward, tho' it is thought the swollen condition of the Osage will impede his retreat.

Many think Fremont will overtake him, but it is probable that he will not do so until the rebel body reaches the state line.

The secessionists at Springfield declare that if they are compelled to desert the town they will burn it to the ground.

An officer of Col. Ellis' west Missouri cavalry informs me that three of their regiment were taken prisoners near Tipton by rebel scouts, last night, and their comrades are now endeavoring to recapture them.

Georgetown and Sedalia were very quiet at last accounts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Reconnoisances to-day, under the immediate direction of Gen. McClellan, demonstrate that the confederates are in very strong force in about their former positions, stretching from Leesburgh, through Fairfax, along the Occocquan river, and a short distance down the Potomac.

Their forces number certainly one hundred and fifty thousand, and some estimates say as high as two hundred thousand men.

The government made arrangements to-day with several iron foundries at Pittsburgh to insure a largely increased supply of cannon during the next two months.

Hon. J. F. Potter, chairman of the investigating committee of the house of representatives, on the 8th inst., called the attention of the navy department to a statement in the newspapers, that Capt. J. H. Morrison, of the steamer Fanny, which was captured by the rebels off Cape Hatteras, was imprisoned at Fortress Monroe for refusing to take the oath of allegiance, and inquired if the statement was true in whole or part. The department to-day replies as follows:

NAVY DEPARTMENT, Oct. 9.

SIR—Your letter of the 8th inst., relative to the newspaper reports concerning the master of the steamer Fanny, has been received. The steamer alluded to was not, at the time of her capture, in the service of this department, and has never been employed by it, and the same may be said of the captain. This department has no knowledge of him whatever, and I have no reason to suppose that, at the time of the capture of the Fanny, a single person in any way connected with the navy was on board of her. Very resp'ly yours, &c.

GIDEON WELLES.

Gen. Hancock's brigade, which is a part of Gen. W. F. Smith's division, at the Chain Bridge, advanced and took position near Lewinsville. After waiting three hours, inviting an attack, our skirmishers advanced and took possession of Lewinsville, the rebels retreating.

A slave was restored to his master yesterday by a Pennsylvania regiment. A file of soldiers escorted the pseudo contraband two miles beyond our lines.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.

Dr. Hayes, of the Polar expedition, arrived here this morning in the United States. The party are all well. Two have died, namely: August Sontag, the astronomer, and Gibson Caruthers. Dr. Hayes reached Smith's Straits on the 26th of August, last year, but could not penetrate the straits with his vessel either last season or this. He wintered at Port Fouke, near Alexander, and with dogs and sleds, reached lat. 81° 35′ May 18th, this year.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.

Brownson's article on emancipation, has been published for free distribution among the Irish.

Several officers, released on parole from Lexington, left to-day on a visit to Chicago.

The city foundries, during the past week or two, have been busily engaged in turning out shot and shell of all sizes, for government use.

News from Springfield states that wagons and negroes continue to pass there on the way south.

A fight took place in Holt county, between a squadron of United States cavalry, 56 strong, under Lieut. Tyler, and 200 rebels, under Capt. Ish. The latter were routed, with the loss of eight or ten.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

The policy of the government in regard to employing foreigners in the military service is as follows, the statement being made on good authority: First, no one has been authorized to enlist or raise troops in Canada, as has been affirmed to be understood there; second, no commissions have been offered, or other overtures made, to military men in France or other European states, as has been assumed there; third, the government has not tendered the command of the army to Gen. Garibaldi, as has been represented in Europe. What is true is—first, that every foreigner who has come with a good character and credentials, and offered his services to the government in support of the Union, has been accepted, and no other is in the military employment of the United States; second, Gen. Garibaldi, being a naturalized citizen, it was reported to the government by one of our consuls that the general was contemplating a visit to this country, and that he had intimated conditionally a disposition to engage in the service of the United States. He was informed that, if this was so, his services would be accepted with pleasure, and he would receive a commission as major general, being the same rank which was conferred on Gen. Lafayette in the war of the Revolution. Gen. Garibaldi, upon consideration of the subject, has concluded not to offer his services at present, but thinks he may by-and-by visit the United States.

To-Day's Report.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Lewinsville will be retained as well as the other positions taken by our forces to-day. A portion of the troops under Brig. Gen. Porter, also advanced and occupied Minor's Hill, to the right of Falls Church, and commanding that village and Barret's Hill. The latter is now in possession of the rebel pickets.

Gen. McClellan and staff, accompanied by Capt. Barker's dragoons, crossed over the chain bridge at an early hour this morning, spending the whole day in making reconnoissance of the new positions taken by the federal troops.

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Capt. Barney, of the 24th New York, advanced three miles beyond Falls Church, on the Leesburg turnpike, with ten men, where he surprised a picket guard of Col. Stewart's rebel cavalry. Three of them were killed and one taken prisoner. They also captured five horses equipped, thirteen navy pistols and one carbine and one telescope. The horse killed was a white one, which has often been seen by our pickets, and is believed to belong to Capt. Powell of Stewart's cavalry. The capture took place within half a mile of the enemy's camps.

No official returns are obtainable but the impression is that the people's ticket has a majority in the Philadelphia camps.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Commander Chauncey arrived here this evening from Hatteras Inlet. He reports that on Monday the rebels organized an expedition to attack and recapture the forts occupied by our forces. The expedition consisted of six steamboats and three thousand men. The steamers were armed with heavy rifled cannon and mortars for throwing shells. The attack was simultaneous but ineffectual. The forts fired shells and were assisted by the vessels stationed off the Inlet. After a time the rebels retired, though not before two or three steamers had been sunk, going down with all on board. Judging from the crowded appearance of the vessels, it is estimated that about seven hundred men were drowned, besides a large loss must have been sustained from the bursting of our shells and the plunging of our shot, as the guns were served in most masterly manner.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Tribune's dispatch.—There is reason to believe in the report from New Orleans, via Richmond, announcing the presence of national vessels at the head passes of the Mississippi. They are doubtless acting under instructions given long since, and engaged in protecting the men building batteries on each side of the river above the point where the five mouths diverge, for the purpose of effectually blockading them all. The guns to be mounted are probably the twenty eight 9-inch Dahlgreens which were ordered for Pickens, and not being required there were put ashore at Tortugas. The Mississippi will be effectually closed by these batteries; twenty vessels could not do it so well.

The Potter investigating committee adjourned to-day. The first report includes the names of 237 employees against whom evidence of treason was presented. To-morrow the second report will be presented giving 235 more. Investigations will probably be renewed at the commencement of the session of congress.

Five colonels stand ready to command five regiments of Illinois cavalry to be raised, which is pressed upon the war department by Gov. Yates and others. The department is willing to accept one and the others as infantry. The cavalry regiment of Col. Barrett is accepted, to serve on the Indiana frontier. The Illinoisians are also pressing the claims of Chicago for the western arsenal.

Brigham Young has lost the Utah Valley, one of the most fertile in Utah, after having announced his intention to settle it with Saints. The President, by an order dated October, has directed an Indian reservation to be made there.

The Secretary of War and the Adjutant General left this city for St. Louis on Tuesday.

Herald's dispatch.—If there is any desire for a fight by the rebels, it is very likely they will be gratified to-morrow, not only in front but up and down the river.

Deserters from the rebel camp and our scouts corroborate the opinion that the rebel army is not disposed to make an advance upon our lines, or to accept the proffered battle.

The dispatches to the war department to-day are more encouraging than heretofore in regard to the movements of Gen. Fremont in Missouri.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.

The election of the city council to-day was very quietly conducted. The rebels made no opposition. The whole Union ticket was elected.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

ELKWATER, VA., Oct 10.

Gen. Reynolds has made two reconnoisances in force, within the last few days, against Gen. Lee, and has driven him from Big Spring. A part of the army under Gen. Lee is said to have joined Floyd at Big Spring. They destroyed their camp equippage and ammunition, and burned several hundred muskets, and left their wagons, &c. The road is absolutely impassable for wagons, beyond a point of twelve miles from Elkwater.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

It was Col. Brainsted of the 1st Georgia regiment who was killed near Hatteras Inlet. Col. Brown, of the 20th Indiana, states that his loss in killed, wounded, &c., is not less than 70. In retreating the enemy captured military stores and a considerable number of arms, knapsacks and tents. The regiment had no other weapons than muskets. The rebel rendezvous is Roanoke Island, about 12 miles from the scene of action, and well fortified. It has been determined at Fort Monroe to use all exertions to augment the strength of our forces on the North Carolina coast.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.

The Commercial's Kanawha advices say Gen. Rosecranz is at Mountain Cove, a strong position 25 miles beyond Gauley.—He had advanced 10 miles further to Little Sewall, but the enemy was too well entrenched and too strong at Big Sewall. Rosecranz fell back as an invitation to the enemy to come out and have a fair fight.—There was no expectation of an attempt by the enemy to force his position. The weather in Gauley region is terribly bad, rain falls almost incessantly. Rosecranz's troops are well clothed, having plenty of overcoats and blankets. The fight at Chapmansville was a sharp and bloody affair, five of Piatt's Zouaves were killed. Rebel loss 35 killed.

A dispatch from Gen. Reynolds to Gov. Morton, dated Hunterville, the 8th, says:—The enemy in our front in Hunterville has been driven to Green Bave Springs, twenty miles beyond Big Springs, their late rendezvous. They are about fifty miles from Elkwater, and twelve from Cheat Mountain.—The roads towards Hunterville are impassable for wheels. The enemy destroyed hundreds of muskets, tents, camp equippage, &c.; several wagons fell into our hands.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.

Special to the Post.—The Bank of Washington refuses to take the treasury notes. The bank has not redeemed its own issue since last fall, and congress will probably close the disloyal concern next winter.

A Union newspaper has just been issued at Alexandria.

Several government contractors for army blankets have failed to comply with their agreements.

Seven thousand tons of Cumberland coal were brought down by canal during the month of September.

Gen. Harney is expected to arrive to-day.

The frigate Pensacola goes down to Alexandria to-day, but will not be ready for sea for several weeks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

The Post says there is not a word of truth in the Times' dispatch about one hundred rebels being drowned by the fire of the Monticello, near Hatteras Inlet.

FORT MONROE, Oct 9.

The tug Young America, while sounding the channel of James river yesterday, exchanged a few shots with Pig Point battery. Several shells exploded near her but did no harm.

The Union gun is now mounted so as to sweep the road between Fortress Monroe and Sewell's Point.

Gen. Wool and Quartermaster Tallmadge have recommenced quartering troops at Old Point and Newport News for the winter, in comfortable wooden houses built to accommodate two or three companies each. Similar quarters will soon be erected for contrabands.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

Flour market slightly favors buyers; sales 10,000 bbls. 5,25a5,35 super state, 5,45a5,55 extra state, 5,25a5,35 super western, 5,45a5,70 common to medium extra western. Wheat market 1a2c lower; sales 70,000 bu. 1,17a1,18 Milwaukee club, 1,20 amber Iowa.

A FIGHTING CLERGYMAN.—Rev. B. C. Ward, pastor of a Congregational church in the village of Genesseo, Illinois, conceives it to be his duty to forsake the pulpit for the field. He has received authority to raise a company of infantry, but proposes to enlist clergymen only. An appeal to his clerical brethren, published over his own signature, calls upon "the fighting stock of the church militant" to prove to the world their willingness to "seal with their blood what they have talked in their pulpits," and closes with this extraordinary passage:

"Much as we have done and said to prove our loyalty, we have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin. Shall we now, at the call of Christ, come out from behind our velvet cushioned barracks, whence we have so often hurled bold, indignant words at the giant iniquity of the age, and meet it face to face with the hot shot of rifled artillery, with the gleaming bayonet, or with clashing sabres in a hand to hand encounter?"

"Parson" Brownlow, of Tennessee, has hitherto borne the title of the "fighting parson," but he has never gone so far as this Illinois clergyman, and Mr. Ward is clearly entitled to wear the honors.

PLUCKY KANSAS.—This young state seems to be like a Kilkenny cat, all fight. She has furnished, complete or nearly full, nine regiments for the war, besides turning out thirty day men when an emergency required, and every able bodied man in the state is said to be undergoing drill, and ready for fight. Kansas has some old scores with the border ruffians of Missouri to pay off, the accumulation of which trained her men for fighting, and the recollection of which doubtless gives a keen edge to her patriotism. The Missouri secessionists are of the same breed that furnished the border ruffians, therefore the retributive justice can hardly go amiss among them.

SOLD AS A SLAVE.—We learn from the best authority, that John May, a young, light-colored mulatto, who formerly worked in Yancey's barber shop, and who went as cook in Capt. McNulty's cavalry company, and with them captured at Lexington, Mo., has been carried off and sold as a slave down on Red River, Arkansas. This intelligence comes in a letter from him to his friends in this place. The peculiar institution which cherishes in its bosom men of the principle which permits them to do a deed like the foregoing certainly ought to be preserved.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

FREE NEGRO CONTRIBUTIONS.—A number of the "First gentlemen" of Charleston have negro children, whom they have liberated and assisted in business. Among these may be mentioned the proprietor of a machine shop named Weston, who is reputed to be worth $80,000; Deriff, a wood factor, $60,000; Howard, a wood and brick factor, $30,000. Another Weston has a large tailoring establishment, employing some twenty colored tailors, is quite wealthy. All these men are made to contribute largely to the fund for the army, and subscriptions were also exacted from the more humble of the free colored population.

OPERATIONS ON ENFIELD RIFLES.—A correspondent of the London Merchants Magazine, states that in the completed Enfield rifle there are 61 different parts, and in the production of these parts and finishing one rifle 800 different machines are used. About 350 rifles are finished per day, and 2,000 operatives are employed. One out of every four rifles is fitted with a sword bayonet, the rest with the common musket bayonet. Some of Terry's breech-loading carbines are being made at present for cavalry at Enfield.

Capt. Requa, of the First regiment, has resigned his command of the Stedman Guards in consequence of physical disability. Calling his company together in Camp Scott, he informed them of his resignation and made an affecting speech, when they all knelt down and he offered up a soul-stirring prayer in their behalf. The boys had all learned to love him and parted with him with regret. A new election was then held, and 1st lieutenant Adams elected captain, and all the rest of the officers promoted one step.—Daily Life.

COST OF EQUIPMENT.—We learn from General Tredway, that the cost of equipping the 7th regiment, exclusive of arms and accoutrements, is $43,045,25, and of the 8th, $42,560,42. The average cost of the regiments so far equipped, is about $46,600. The excess in the average is caused by the expensive manner in which the first regiments were provided for, thro' inexperience and greeness in the business.—Madison Patriot.

R. D. Ketchum, of Portage was killed on Thursday of last week, by accidentally falling from a steamboat wharf at Waupaca. A steamer was lying at the wharf, and he was crushed against the latter.

COST OF MUSIC.—The secretary of war is becoming impatient with the expense of bands of music for the army, as it already amounts to a sum that will make this single item of expenditure four million dollars a year.

A TRUE PATRIOT.—Mr. Flannigan, of the town of Cascade, sixty years old, has furnished five sons who have become soldiers—three in Wisconsin regiments, and two in Missouri, and he says he will go himself if it is necessary.

COL. DOUSMAN DECLINED.—We are authorized to say that Col. H. L. Dousman positively and unqualifiedly refuses to be a candidate for state treasurer, and that if elected he would not accept the office.—Wisconsin.

PILGRIMS TO THE LAND OF FREEDOM.—Quite a stream of teams, cattle, families, etc., came over from Missouri to-day, and put off for the interior counties of Illinois, where they can be safe from the depredations of secession. Many of them avow their determination to return and fight for the Union after their families are in safe quarters, but a Missouri friend who is pretty well posted on matters there says they generally do not return. The Hegira of so many Union and non-combatting people from north-east Missouri as the last few months have witnessed, explains in part why Matt Green has carried such a high hand there. If the Union men valued their known rights as much as the traitors do their imagined ones, Missouri would present a better aspect to-day.—Quincy Whig.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Munson, the proprietor of Munson's Hill, in Virginia, from which the rebels have just retreated, has been, with his daughter, spending several days at Salisbury, Connecticut. His farm embraces about two hundred acres. He was compelled to leave it after the retreat of our troops from Bull Run. His son, who remained behind for a few days, had his horse shot under him by the rebels, when he was finally compelled to fly, but escaped himself unharmed. The whole family are devoted to the Union, and Mr. M. was one of the very few persons in that vicinity who voted for Lincoln at the last election. His house and barns have all been burned.

LARGE HAUL OF CONTRABAND GOODS.—Within the past three or four days the government agents in this city have discovered and secured, in transitu, goods and property bound south, to give aid and comfort to the rebel army, valued at over fifty thousand dollars. The property was found partly here and partly in Quincy. More is yet in process of being secured, and particulars cannot at present be given without danger of periling the government interests. This is a large haul, will prove of great service to the Union cause, and at the same time act in a perfectly satisfactory manner upon the purse of the enemy.—Chicago Times.

A Missing Editor Found.

MERCHANT'S DESPATCH FAST FREIGHT LINE,
NEW YORK OFFICE, Oct. 7th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—Your "senior" is around. He tried to escape this morning, but failed to connect. Has been to Washington and can

"Tell you all about the war,
And what they killed each other for."

He and his umbrella are to leave for home this evening. We shall miss his good company and concatenatious, jolly laugh, but your readers have a claim on him, and we would not be selfish. May he have a pleasant journey, and long live as a model editor, and flourish like a bulrush.

A. H. L.

We infer from the above that the friends of the "senior" are sending him home by a "fast freight line," and that he may be expected some time next week.

The Final Departure of the Eighth Regiment.

This regiment has been delayed beyond the time of its expected departure, but we are assured that the time has been definitely fixed for Saturday next. Col. Murphy writes that they will leave Madison at nine o'clock on Saturday morning, and he requests that the people of Janesville will furnish some cold refreshments for his men, to be passed to them as they are sitting in the cars. The short time allowed them in their passage through Janesville, will not make it convenient to leave the cars. The refreshments required may consist of sand wiches, pies and hot coffee in buckets.

Our citizens have been desirous of paying their respects to this fine regiment on their way through our city to Missouri, and, although they have once made preparations to do so, when there was a mistake as to time, we hope they will try it again. The Fire Zouave boys, of this city, will of course expect to see their friends, and we think they will not be disappointed.

COMPANY D.—We have received a letter from our friend Albert B. Heath, of the Janesville volunteers, in the second regiment. He says the boys are in fine spirits and getting along well. They are on duty in Virgininia, and bear their part in the important movements on that side of the river. Company D. have been some time in service, and have become familiar with a soldier's life. From all we can learn of them they are prepared to do their whole duty, on every occasion. We have but one fault to find with them, and that is, they do not write to us.

CAMP RANDALL, Oct. 9th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—I have seen through your paper that the good and patriotic people of Janesville have been preparing to give a warm reception to the Eighth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers for some time past. They will not be disappointed much longer, as I can assure you that we will pass through Janesville on Saturday next. We will leave Madison at 9 o'clock on that morning. I have the intelligence from Col. Murphy, commander of the regiment. I am yours respectfully,

F. N. KELEY,
Lieut. 18th Reg't W. V.

HOW THE REBELS SHOW THE SEPOY.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says:

A gentleman from Barry county who left home on Monday last gives the particulars of the shooting of Messrs. Cox and Davis, near Galena, Stone county, by the rebels. A considerable force visited Galena, arrested these men and the son of the latter, and after plundering and stealing all they could, started to return with these three prisoners. When a few miles from town, the prisoners were taken out and placed a short distance from a file of soldiers, who were to execute the cruel orders for their destruction. They were then told they could either run the chances of being shot in their flight, or stand still and be shot. Knowing the chances to be about equal in both cases, Mr. Cox covered his face with his hands, and stood his ground. The other two attempted to escape, and one of them, the younger Davis, succeeded. The father and Mr. Cox were killed on the spot. The cause of their offence, my informants state, was none other than they had been warm Union men, and that they had been accused falsely, it is believed, of aiding in the taking of certain goods from the store of R. W. Crawford, a violent secessionist, now an officer in the rebel army. Such deeds of willful murder, without even the forms of a trial can find no parallel in the annals of civilized warfare.

A GOOD JOKE ON A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.—The Oswego Times tells the following good story at the expense of a conductor known among the boys as Aleck:

On the two o'clock slow freight and passenger train from Syracuse, yesterday, were a lady and her son, a youth of good dimensions, the latter traveling on a half ticket. After the innumerable stoppages and delays in unloading freight, &c., by which the patience of the passengers is usually exhausted long before they reach this city, the conductor made his appearance for tickets. Glancing at the pasteboard received from the boy, he looked first at him, then at his mother, and then at the ticket, and remarked that he was "a large boy to be riding at half fare." "I know," said the lady; "I know he is, sir, but then he's grown a good deal since we started." The last that was seen of Aleck he was on his way to speak to the engineer about it.

LOCK JAW.—A Mr. Ashman, a German piano maker, residing on the corner of 9th and Tamarack streets, died last Sunday from lock jaw. Deceased had a rusty nail run into his foot, which was extracted by his son, when his leg began to swell, the swelling extending over the body. Medical attendance was had in vain, and he died in great agony.—Daily Life.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the Fifth Regiment.

CAMP AT VANDERWERKEN, Va., Oct. 5th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—We are in camp, and the boys are all employed in some avocation, some playing the violin, others washing dishes, others engaged in writing home, a number engaged in and apparently enjoying themselves at various games, while the rest are fast asleep, taking all the rest they can before 2 o'clock, as then we are to drill one hour as skirmishers. We are drilling four times each day now, getting ready for the fall campaign, and the boys say they feel as though they were at home in Camp Randall. Our generals seem to be determined that we shall be ready if we ever meet the enemy, to give them a good reception, and welcome them to a traitor's grave.

We were out on picket day before yesterday, and were stationed with some New York, Pennsylvania and Maine boys. There were some of each state on every post, and although I say it, our regiment will not suffer in any respect, in size, equipments or discipline, and certainly not in numbers when compared with the best of them.—Some of them were not very much used to picket duty, and by putting them on with those who are more used to it, the duty is better performed than it would be were we stationed separate. Our picket is very heavy now, being more than six hundred men, and we extend the lines nearly every day—thus you see we are conquering the "Old Dominion" step by step, and unless we have a serious drawback, which I believe will never happen while we follow the plan our generals are using now, we will by spring have driven the last vestige of secession into the everglades of Florida. When our men took possession of Munson's Hill they found there a large number of southern papers and letters, which the soldiers had written home but which had not been sent. The papers represent that Beauregard says that all Gen. McClellan knows how to do is to keep his batteries on the hills, while his men cut away the groves and play Yankee Doodle. Beauregard may think differently some time, for our band has already learned "Dixie." The letters represent that the troops in the rebel army are very poorly cared for, and that their officers use them like brutes instead of men.

Our scouts, as you have learned by the papers, capture a rebel nearly every day, and sometimes several; they brought in a lieutenant last evening. He was out chestnutting, and happening to be upon a tree, was in a poor condition to fight, and poorer to run.

The successes of our navy on the coast raise the spirits of the loyal citizens here, and completes the huge anaconda of Gen. Scott with which he means to and will crush out this damnable rebellion. Yesterday evening we were all surprised by the appearance of a large balloon, which sailed very high, slowly and majestically, from some place south of us towards the east, and disappeared in the distance. We have since learned that it was one of those used by the government in observations, and that it broke loose from its moorings. But there, at the foot of the street, stands the drummer, and I must go and drill one hour, and then get ready for battalion drill and dress parade.

The boys are at work to day cleaning up the street, and I expect we will leave here before many days. Some boys of the 7th were here yesterday, and they report its condition as being good, and from the paper notices of it I am led to believe that a better regiment has not left the state. The regiment is at Chain Bridge.

The weather here is quite warm and dry; we however, stand it very well, better than we expected, deserters from the rebel army say better than the rebels. Our scouts found some hogs and cattle at Fall's Church killed and left, just as though the rebels had been compelled to leave them at a moment's notice. Our men were hungry, but concluded that before they eat any of the meat they would have it examined by a physician, and found upon doing so, that it had been poisoned so highly that a single mouthful would have killed a person.

I remain yours in truth,

J. M. KIMBALL.

From the Eighth Regiment.

HEAD QUARTERS JANESVILLE FIRE ZOUAVES,
CAMP RANDALL, Oct. 9th, 1861

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I believe we have at last found out the time for our departure from Camp Randall—we leave here on Saturday morning, and go by the way of Janesville.

The regiment have been out for the past two days, near the University, firing blank cartridges. Each man takes ten rounds. We fired by divisions, by wing, by company, right and left oblique, and by file.—There was some cracking for about an hour each day, you had better believe, and the boys enjoy the sport very much. Some got excited and shot their rammers away, but the most of them did well, and it has been of great benefit to the men.

The 8th goes up town this afternoon to show themselves to the Madisonians.

I wish through your paper to thank Mrs. S. W. Blood and the ladies of Janesville who contributed so liberally toward the getting up of the beautiful needle cushions which we received here yesterday from them. I distributed them this morning to the men, one each, and every man said "good for the women of Janesville," "tiger," or some other expression of gratification that first entered their minds. I assure you they were beautiful presents, and will long be remembered by the receivers.

We have one man in the hospital, and three others unable to do duty. John W. Drummond, a member of my company, sprained his knee some two weeks ago, and has been unfit for duty ever since. The man in the hospital is S. Harvey—down with the fever; I hope they will be able to leave with the regiment. The sick have the best of care taken of them.

I have written much more than I expected to when I sat down. I will close.

My best respects to you all.

Yours, W. B. BRITTON,
Capt. Co. C, 8th Regt. W. V.

Forgive and Forget.

Oh! forgive and forget, for this life is too fleeting
To waste it in brooding o'er wrongs we have met,
It is better, far better, to smother our anger,
To teach the proud heart to forgive and forget.

In the path we must tread, leading down to the valley,
Are crosses and burdens to lift and to bear;
And the chalice of life from which we are drinking,
Oft bears to our lips drops of sorrow and care.

And too, in the pathway, rare flowers are blooming
Which we may gather and wear if we will;
After a tempest comes sunshine and gladness—
A valley lies over the rough, rugged hill.

But life is so short, be it sunshine or shadow,
That we cannot afford to brood over a wrong;
And a smile oft dispels heavy burdens of sorrow,
And the sad heart grows gay o'er a glad, merry song.

Then forgive and forgot; if the friends you love fondly
Prove themselves false and unworthy of trust,
Deal with them kindly, for they are but mortals
Erring like us—for we, too, are but dust.

Deal with them tenderly, pity their weakness,
We know every heart hath its evil and good;
We all have our Father in Heaven—hence are brothers,
Then let us forget and forgive as we should.

A Missing Editor Found.

MERCHANT'S DESPATCH FAST FREIGHT LINE,
NEW YORK OFFICE, Oct. 7th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—Your "senior" is around. He tried to escape this morning, but failed to connect. Has been to Washington and can

"Tell you all about the war,
And what they killed each other for."

He and his umbrella are to leave for home this evening. We shall miss his good company and concatenations, jolly laugh, but your readers have a claim on him, and we would not be selfish. May he have a pleasant journey, and long live as a model editor, and flourish like a bulrush.

A. H. L.

We infer from the above that the friends of the "senior" are sending him home by a "fast freight line," and that he may be expected some time next week.

The Final Departure of the Eighth Regiment.

This regiment has been delayed beyond the time of its expected departure, but we are assured that the time has been definitely fixed for Saturday next. Col. Murphy writes that they will leave Madison at nine o'clock on Saturday morning, and he requests that the people of Janesville will furnish some cold refreshments for his men, to be passed to them as they are sitting in the cars. The short time allowed them in their passage through Janesville, will not make it convenient to leave the cars. The refreshments required may consist of sandwiches, pies and hot coffee in buckets.

Our citizens have been desirous of paying their respects to this fine regiment on their way through our city to Missouri, and, although they have once made preparations to do so, when there was a mistake as to time, we hope they will try it again. The Fire Zouave boys, of this city, will of course expect to see their friends, and we think they will not be disappointed.

COMPANY D.—We have received a letter from our friend Albert B. Heath, of the Janesville volunteers, in the second regiment. He says the boys are in fine spirits and getting along well. They are on duty in Virgininia, and bear their part in the important movements on that side of the river. Company D. have been some time in service, and have become familiar with a soldier's life. From all we can learn of them they are prepared to do their whole duty, on every occasion. We have but one fault to find with them, and that is, they do not write to us.

CAMP RANDALL, Oct. 9th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—I have seen through your paper that the good and patriotic people of Janesville have been preparing to give a warm reception to the Eighth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers for some time past. They will not be disappointed much longer, as I can assure you that we will pass through Janesville on Saturday next. We will leave Madison at 9 o'clock on that morning. I have the intelligence from Col. Murphy, commander of the regiment. I am yours respectfully,

F. N. KELEY,
Lieut. 8th Reg't W. V.

HOW THE REBELS SHOW THE SEPOY.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says:

A gentleman from Barry county who left home on Monday last gives the particulars of the shooting of Messrs. Cox and Davis, near Galena, Stone county, by the rebels. A considerable force visited Galena, arrested these men and the son of the latter, and after plundering and stealing all they could, started to return with these three prisoners. When a few miles from town, the prisoners were taken out and placed a short distance from a file of soldiers, who were to execute the cruel orders for their destruction. They were then told they could either run the chances of being shot in their flight, or stand still and be shot. Knowing the chances to be about equal in both cases, Mr. Cox covered his face with his hands, and stood his ground. The other two attempted to escape, and one of them, the younger Davis, succeeded. The father and Mr. Cox were killed on the spot. The cause of their offence, my informants state, was none other than they had been warm Union men, and that they had been accused falsely, it is believed, of aiding in the taking of certain goods from the store of R. W. Crawford, a violent secessionist, now an officer in the rebel army. Such deeds of willful murder, without even the forms of a trial can find no parallel in the annals of civilized warfare.

A GOOD JOKE ON A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.—The Oswego Times tells the following good story at the expense of a conductor known among the boys as Aleck:

On the two o'clock slow freight and passenger train from Syracuse, yesterday, were a lady and her son, a youth of good dimensions, the latter traveling on a half ticket. After the innumerable stoppages and delays in unloading freight, &c., by which the patience of the passengers is usually exhausted long before they reach this city, the conductor made his appearance for tickets. Glancing at the pasteboard received from the boy, he looked first at him, then at his mother, and then at the ticket, and remarked that he was "a large boy to be riding at half fare." "I know," said the lady; "I know he is, sir, but then he's grown a good deal since we started." The last that was seen of Aleck he was on his way to speak to the engineer about it.

LOCK JAW.—A Mr. Ashman, a German piano maker, residing on the corner of 9th and Tamarack streets, died last Sunday from lock jaw. Deceased had a rusty nail run into his foot, which was extracted by his son, when his leg began to swell, the swelling extending over the body. Medical attendance was had in vain, and he died in great agony.—Daily Life.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the Fifth Regiment.

CAMP AT VANDERWECKING, Va., Oct. 5th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—We are in camp, and the boys are all employed in some avocation, some playing the violin, others washing dishes, others engaged in writing home, a number engaged in and apparently enjoying themselves at various games, while the rest are fast asleep, taking all the rest they can before 2 o'clock, as then we are to drill one hour as skirmishers. We are drilling four times each day now, getting ready for the fall campaign, and the boys say they feel as though they were at home in Camp Randall. Our generals seem to be determined that we shall be ready if we ever meet the enemy, to give them a good reception, and welcome them to a traitor's grave.

We were out on picket day before yesterday, and were stationed with some New York, Pennsylvania and Maine boys. There were some of each state on every post, and although I say it, our regiment will not suffer in any respect, in size, equipments or discipline, and certainly not in numbers when compared with the best of them.—Some of them were not very much used to picket duty, and by putting them on with those who are more used to it, the duty is better performed than it would be were we stationed separate. Our picket is very heavy now, being more than six hundred men, and we extend the lines nearly every day—thus you see we are conquering the "Old Dominion" step by step, and unless we have a serious drawback, which I believe will never happen while we follow the plan our generals are using now, we will by spring have driven the last vestige of secession into the everglades of Florida. When our men took possession of Munson's Hill they found there a large number of southern papers and letters, which the soldiers had written home but which had not been sent. The papers represent that Beauregard says that all Gen. McClellan knows how to do is to keep his batteries on the hills, while his men cut away the groves and play Yankee Doodle. Beauregard may think differently some time, for our band has already learned "Dixie." The letters represent that the troops in the rebel army are very poorly cared for, and that their officers use them like brutes instead of men.

Our scouts, as you have learned by the papers, capture a rebel nearly every day, and sometimes several; they brought in a lieutenant last evening. He was out chestnutting, and happening to be upon a tree, was in a poor condition to fight, and poorer to run.

The successes of our navy on the coast raise the spirits of the loyal citizens here, and completes the huge anaconda of Gen. Scott with which he means to and will crush out this damnable rebellion. Yesterday evening we were all surprised by the appearance of a large balloon, which sailed very high, slowly and majestically, from some place south of us towards the east, and disappeared in the distance. We have since learned that it was one of those used by the government in observations, and that it broke loose from its moorings. But there, at the foot of the street, stands the drummer, and I must go and drill one hour, and then get ready for battalion drill and dress parade.

The boys are at work to-day cleaning up the street, and I expect we will leave here before many days. Some boys of the 7th were here yesterday, and they report its condition as being good, and from the paper notices of it I am led to believe that a better regiment has not left the state. The regiment is at Chain Bridge.

The weather here is quite warm and dry; we however, stand it very well, better than we expected, deserters from the rebel army say better than the rebels. Our scouts found some hogs and cattle at Fall's Church killed and left, just as though the rebels had been compelled to leave them at a moment's notice. Our men were hungry, but concluded that before they eat any of the meat they would have it examined by a physician, and found upon doing so, that it had been poisoned so highly that a single mouthful would have killed a person.

I remain yours in truth,

J. M. KIMBALL.

From the Eighth Regiment.

HEAD-QUARTERS JANESVILLE FIRE ZOUAVES,
CAMP RANDALL, Oct. 9th, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I believe we have at last found out the time for our departure from Camp Randall—we leave here on Saturday morning, and go by the way of Janesville.

The regiment have been out for the past two days, near the University, firing blank cartridges. Each man takes ten rounds. We fired by divisions, by wing, by company, right and left oblique, and by file.—There was some cracking for about an hour each day, you had better believe, and the boys enjoy the sport very much. Some got excited and shot their rammers away, but the most of them did well, and it has been of great benefit to the men.

The 8th goes up town this afternoon to show themselves to the Madisonians.

I wish through your paper to thank Mrs. S. W. Blood and the ladies of Janesville who contributed so liberally toward the getting up of the beautiful needle cushions which we received here yesterday from them. I distributed them this morning to the men, one each, and every man said "good for the women of Janesville," "tiger," or some other expression of gratification that first entered their minds. I assure you they were beautiful presents, and will long be remembered by the receivers.

We have one man in the hospital, and three others unable to do duty. John W. Drummond, a member of my company, sprained his knee some two weeks ago, and has been unfit for duty ever since. The man in the hospital is S. Harvey—down with the fever; I hope they will be able to leave with the regiment. The sick have the best of care taken of them.

I have written much more than I expected to when I sat down. I will close.

My best respects to you all.

Yours, W. B. BRITTON,
Capt. Co. G, 8th Regt. W. V.

Forgive and Forget.

Oh! forgive and forget, for this life is too fleeting
To waste it in brooding o'er wrongs we have met,
It is better, far better, to smother our anger,
To touch the proud heart to forgive and forget.

In the path we must tread, leading down to the valley,
Are crosses and burdens to lift and to bear;
And the chalice of life from which we are drinking,
Oft bears to our lips drops of sorrow and care.

And too, in the pathway, rare flowers are blooming
Which we may gather and wear if we will;
After a tempest comes sunshine and gladness—
A valley lies over the rough, rugged hill.

But life is so short, be it sunshine or shadow,
That we cannot afford to brood over a wrong;
And a smile oft dispels heavy burdens of sorrow,
And the sad heart grows gay o'er a glad, merry song.

Then forgive and forget; if the friends you love fondly
Prove themselves false and unworthy of trust,
Deal with them kindly, for they are but mortals
Erring like us—for we, too, are but dust.

Deal with them tenderly, pity their weakness,
We know every heart hath its evil and good;
We all have our Father in Heaven—hence are brothers,
Then let us forget and forgive as we should.

SMITH & BOSTWICK,

STOCK OF MERCHANDISE

to be found in the state, all of which we shall sell for

CASH

at prices that will defy all competition in the state. Having bought all of our

in July and August, before the great rise in the eastern markets, with very few exceptions, we shall sell our entire stock of Domestics at old prices, which will be at least than they can be bought for at the present time of the manufacturers.

Good Brown Sheetings at 9 cents.
Very Heavy " at 10 "
Splendid Delanes, one shilling.
Best made " 20 cents.
Our entire stock of fast colored best prints at 9 cents.
16 yards bleached cheetings for $1,00.

BLEACHED GOODS, STRIPES, CHECKS, TICKS, DENIMS, KENTUCKY JEANS, and all kinds of

Old Prices!

Having bought a very large stock of these goods before the rise in the eastern markets, we shall give our customers the benefit of

BETTER BARGAINS

than can be found in this city. Also a very large stock of

SQUARE AND LONG WOOL AND BROCHA

SHAWLS.

A very large stock of these goods, bought at 50 cents on the dollar from what they cost to manufacture, and will be sold for one half what they were ever before sold for in this place, also a very large assortment of

LADIES CLOTH CLOAKS,
Very Cheap.

We have now in store the Largest Stock of

to be found in this city.

Black and Fancy Dress Silks.

We have now on sale over 500 pieces of Dress Silks, among which are some splendid and desirable goods, and at than ever before offered in this city.

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES
and VESTINGS.

Having a store exclusively for these goods, we have by far the

LARGEST AND MOST EXTENSIVE STOCK

in this city and as good a stock of

Fine French Cloths & Cassimeres

for fine and business suits as can be found in New York, which we are in as good style as can be done in any place in the United States. All garments warranted a PERFECT FIT OR NO SALE.

MANUFACTURING TO ORDER

MILITARY SUITS.

Particular attention paid to the manufacture of

Officers' Fine Clothing,

having done a large business in this line for the past two months. We have now on hand a splendid line of among which are some very fine goods, which we can get up in better style than can be done at any other house in this city. For proof of what we say, we refer to fifty officers that we have made suits for in the past two months.

Carpets and Floor Oil-Cloths.

We have now in store the largest stock of Carpets ever exhibited in this city. We are selling a splendid all wool carpet at 50 cents. We have the only real stock of

Lowell Carpets

in this city, also a fine stock of

BRUSSELS AND VELVETS.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

Having devoted the entire basement of our store to the sale of these goods, we have just received a large invoice of

in original packages from the manufacturers at a saving of

over those who buy in this country. All we have to say in this matter is, that we have much the largest stock in this city, and we shall sell it at least thirty per cent less than the same goods were ever sold for in this place. Any person wanting sets of Crockery will do well to take a look at ours before purchasing.

IN CONCLUSION,

we will say that having bought our entire stock this fall for cash, at low prices, and a great many goods much less than they are worth now, and changed our system to

SELLING ENTIRELY FOR CASH,

we propose to sell goods this fall and winter at very

LOW PRICES.

Persons visiting Janesville will give us a call, we will show them through our stock, and we think we will convince them that we mean just what we say.

To form Niagara's pride."

MOSES HARSH,

the proprietor of this Cheapest of all Cheap Clothing Stores, dispenses to the public at the Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

CHAPTER 242.

AS AMENDED BY CHAPTER 1, EXTRA SESSION.

AN ACT to amend the General Banking Law, and the several acts amendatory thereof.

The People of the State of Wisconsin represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22 of chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, with the thereunto belonging amendment, (see chapter 98 of the general laws of 1858,) is hereby amended as follows: by striking out the following words: "Said stocks to be valued at a rate to be estimated and governed by the average rate at which said stocks have been sold in the city of New York, within the next six months preceding the time when such stocks may be left on deposit with the comptroller." By striking out the words "equal to," and inserting after the words "not exceeding," the words "in value." By striking out the following words: "But such public stocks shall in all cases be, or be made to be equal to a stock producing six per cent per annum; and it shall not be lawful for the bank comptroller to take such stock at a rate above its par value, nor above its current market value in the city of New York at the time of deposit, by such person or association of persons;" and by inserting in lieu thereof the following; "and it shall be lawful for the bank comptroller to issue for public stock which have been ranging at or above par during the last six months, and up to the time of deposite in the New York market, circulating notes up to the par value of said stocks; but the comptroller shall not issue for public stocks ranging below par in said market, more circulation than ninety per cent of the current market value of said stocks at the time of deposit, nor more than ninety per cent of the average market value during the last six months; and for such stocks as during the last six months have been at and above as well as below par, the comptroller shall not issue more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months, nor in any event more than ninety per cent of its market value on the day of deposit, nor more than ninety per cent of the par value of such stocks;" so that the said section shall henceforth read as follows: "Whenever, hereafter, any person or association of persons, formed for the purpose of banking under the provisions of this chapter, shall duly assign and transfer in trust to the treasurer of this state, any portion of the public stocks issued or to be issued by the United States or any state stocks, on which full interest is annually paid, such person or association of persons shall be entitled to receive from the bank comptroller an amount of such circulating notes of different denominations, registered and countersigned, and not exceeding in value the amount of public stocks assigned and tranferred as aforesaid; and it shall be lawful for the bank comptroller to issue for public stocks, which have been ranging at or above par during the last six months, and up to the time of deposite in the New York market, circulating notes up to the par value of said stocks, but the comptroller shall not issue for public stocks ranging below par in said market, more circulation than ninety per cent of the current market value of said stocks at the time of deposit, nor more than ninety per cent of the average market value during the last six months; and for such stocks as during the last six months have been at and above as well as below par, the comptroller shall not issue more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months, nor in any event more than ninety per cent of its market value on the day of deposite, nor more than ninety per cent of the par value of such stocks: Provided, that if in the opinion of the bank comptroller, together with the governor and the secretary of state, any stocks offered shall be deemed insecure, they shall not be received as such securities under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that from and after the first day of December, 1861, the bank comptroller shall not receive as security for circulating bank notes, any other public stocks than those issued by the state of Wisconsin and the United States.

SEC. 2. Any public stocks described in the preceding section, and issued at a rate of interest less than five per cent per annum, to be receivable by the bank comptroller, shall be made to be equal to stocks producing five per cent per annum.

SEC. 3. Section 40 of chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, is hereby amended by inserting between the words "located" and "to," in the 19th line of said section, the words "or to the judge at chambers."

SEC. 4. Every bank and banking association now organized in this state, and all banks and banking associations that shall be organized before the 1st of day December, 1861, except such banks and banking associations as are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall, on or before said first day of December next, appoint an agent, who shall keep an office in the city of Milwaukee or in the city of Madison, for the redemption of all circulating notes issued by such bank or banking association, which shall be presented to such agent for payment or redemption.

SEC. 5. The appointment of such agent shall be made in writing, and such written appointment shall be delivered to the bank comptroller on or before said first day of December next, who shall file the same in his office. If any bank or banking association shall neglect or refuse to appoint such agent within the time above mentioned, the bank comptroller shall appoint such agent for such bank or banking association.

SEC. 6. The bank comptroller shall, immediately after said first day of December next, during such time as he may deem advisable, publish a list of such agents in one daily newspaper published in the city of Madison, and in one daily newspaper published in the city of Milwaukee, the expense whereof shall be equally divided among the several banks or banking associations so published, and be paid by them to the comptroller on demand, under penalty of forfeiture of one hundred dollars, to be collected and applied as provided in respect to the forfeiture named in section 19, chapter 71, of the Revised Statutes.

SEC. 7 Every bank or banking association hereafter organized, shall before receiving any circulating notes from the bank comptroller, appoint an agent for the purposes of this act; and such appointment shall be immediately published in the manner aforesaid, at the expense of such bank or banking association, to be collected in the manner above provided.

SEC. 8. Appointments of agents made in pursuance of this act, may be revoked and new appointments of agents made from time to time, by delivering such revocation and appointment to the bank comptroller, who shall cause the same to be published as before provided

SEC. 9. It shall be lawful for any number of banks or banking associations, authorized by this act, to appoint an agent to associate together for raising a joint fund, to be placed in the hands of their common agent for the redemption of their circulating notes, in the city of Milwaukee or Madison, and also the circulating notes of other banks in such manner, and under such regulations as may be agreed upon, and to employ such agents and clerks as they may deem necessary to carry on the business of such common agency; but nothing in this section contained shall authorize the redemption or purchase by such agency of any circulating notes at a rate of discount greater than is herein provided for, nor relieve such banks from any duty or liability required or imposed by this act.

SEC. 10. Every such bank or banking association in this state, except such banks and banking associations as now are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall redeem and pay on demand, in the lawful money of the United States, all circulating notes issued by such banks or banking associations, presented for redemption at the office of the agent of such bank or banking association, during the usual hours of business of bankers, between the hours of ten and three o'clock, at a rate of discount not exceeding three-fourths of one per cent.

SEC. 11. Every bank or banking association, whose agent shall neglect or refuse to redeem its notes on demand, as aforesaid, shall, on proof being made to the bank comptroller of such neglect or refusal, by the affidavit of the person who presented said notes for redemption or payment, and on depositing in his office the notes so presented, be subject to the same penalties, and be proceeded against in the same manner, as is now provided by law for cases where the circulating notes of any bank or banking association are protested for non-payment, unless the comptroller shall be satisfied that there is a good and legal defence against the payment of such notes.

SEC. 12. Every bank and banking association shall redeem its circulating notes as now provided by law, but in case of neglect or refusal to redeem its notes on presentation at its counter, and of protest therefor, such bank or banking association, if not located within the city of Milwaukee or the city of Madison, shall not be liable to the holder of such notes for damages: Provided, it shall within fifteen days after receiving notice from the comptroller to pay the same, redeem said notes in the lawful money of the United States, with interest at the rate of fifteen per cent per annum; Provided, that the officer or officers of such bank or banking association so neglecting or refusing to redeem its notes on demand, may endorse upon the bills or package of bills so presented, an acknowledgement of such presentation and refusal, and waiving protest upon the same; and such endorsement shall be held as evidence of the statement therein made.

SEC. 13. No bank or banking association shall hereafter receive upon the deposite of bonds, circulating notes to an amount exceeding three times its bona fide cash capital actually paid in, and the bank comptroller is hereby authorized and required to ascertain what the actual cash capital of any bank or banking association applying for circulation, except in exchange for mutilated bills, may be, and for this purpose he is authorized to examine any person on oath, and to compel answers under oath, from any officer or stockholder of any bank or banking association so applying, or any other person.

SEC. 14. No bank or banking association shall hereafter be organized in this state, nor shall any more circulating notes be issued to any bank or banking association in this state, unless said bank or banking association shall have a bona fide cash capital of at least fifteen thousand dollars actually paid in, which shall remain in such bank or banking association as capital, and employed in legitimate banking at the place where the bank is located; and it is hereby declared that the bonds deposited with the bank comptroller shall not be considered as any evidence of the existence of capital in any such bank or banking association, nor of the amount and extent of such capital; and it is hereby made the duty of the comptroller, before issuing any more circulating notes to any such bank or banking association now organized, or that shall be hereafter organized, except in exchange for mutilated notes, to satisfy himself by an examination under oath of an officer or stockholder of such bank or banking association that it has fully complied with the provisions of this section, and of the next preceding section of this act, and for the purposes of such examination the comptroller, or in his absence the deputy comptroller, is hereby authorized to administer oaths; Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to permit any bank to issue circulating notes to any greater amount than its nominal capital.

SEC. 15 From and after the first day of December next it shall not be lawful for any bank or banking association, banker, broker, company or corporation, to circulate or attempt to circulate, or to pay out as money, any bill, note or other evidence of debt, issued or purporting to have been issued by any bank, banking association, company, corporation or individual located or residing out of this state, unless said bill, or note or evidence of debt shall, for the last six months preceding such circulating or paying out, have been redeemable in the city of New York or Boston in current money of the United States, at a rate of discount not exceeding three fourths of one per cent; and the decision of the bank comptroller as to the rate of such discount shall be final and conclusive. Every bank or banking association, banker or broker, corporation or company, offending against the provisions of this section shall forfeit for each and every offense the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered with costs of suit in the name and for the use of any person who shall sue for the same and prosecute such suit to judgment in any court having cognizance thereof.

SEC. 16. Each and every person owning or holding stock in any bank or banking association, who shall sell, transfer or assign his stock or any portion thereof, in any such bank or banking association, shall be held, and remain for the term of six months from and after such sale, transfer or assignment, as aforesaid, personally liable to the amount of stock so as aforesaid sold, transferred or assigned by him for the payment of all the debts and liabilities of such bank or banking association, existing at the time of such sale, transfer or assignment.

SEC. 17. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of December, eighteen hundred and sixty-one.

SEC. 18. All acts or parts of acts conflicting with, or in any way contravening the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 19. At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, in the year 1861, at all the usual places of holding elections in this state, for the election of all officers required by law then to be elected, the question whether this act shall become a law and go into effect, or in any manner be in force, shall be submitted to the people, and if the same shall be approved by a majority of all the votes cast on the subject, it shall go into effect; otherwise, it shall not go into effect nor be in force.

SEC. 20. The votes cast on the subject specified in the last preceding section shall be by separate ballot, and shall have written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, on each of them, the words: "For Amendments to the Banking Law," or "Against Amendments to the Banking Law," which words shall indicate the vote for or against the approval of this act; and the ballots so cast shall be canvassed and returned in the same manner as the votes cast for state officers are required by law to be canvassed, and the secretary of state shall immediately, on the completion of said canvass, publish a statement of the result thereof in the official state paper, and shall communicate the same to the next legislature at the commencement of the session, and he shall also deliver to the state treasurer a certified copy thereof, with a statement of the result of the canvass upon the subject immediately after the completion of the canvass.

Chapter 242, approved April 13, 1861; Chapter 1, Extra Session, approved May 25, 1861.

Said election to be conducted, the votes canvassed and returns made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 7 of the Revised Statutes of 1858.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

SEC. 3. Section 40 of chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, is hereby amended by inserting between the words "located" and "to," in the 19th line of said section, the words "or to the judge at chambers."

SEC. 4. Every bank and banking association now organized in this state, and all banks and banking associations that shall be organized before the 1st of day December, 1861, except such banks and banking associations as are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall, on or before said first day of December next, appoint an agent, who shall keep an office in the city of Milwaukee or in the city of Madison, for the redemption of all circulating notes issued by such bank or banking association, which shall be presented to such agent for payment or redemption.

SEC. 5. The appointment of such agent shall be made in writing, and such written appointment shall be delivered to the bank comptroller on or before said first day of December next, who shall file the same in his office. If any bank or banking association shall neglect or refuse to appoint such agent within the time above mentioned, the bank comptroller shall appoint such agent for such bank or banking association.

SEC. 6. The bank comptroller shall, immediately after said first day of December next, during such time as he may deem advisable, publish a list of such agents in one daily newspaper published in the city of Madison, and in one daily newspaper published in the city of Milwaukee, the expense whereof shall be equally divided among the several banks or banking associations so published, and be paid by them to the comptroller on demand, under penalty of forfeiture of one hundred dollars, to be collected and applied as provided in respect to the forfeiture named in section 19, chapter 71, of the Revised Statutes.

SEC. 7. Every bank or banking association hereafter organized, shall before receiving any circulating notes from the bank comptroller, appoint an agent for the purposes of this act; and such appointment shall be immediately published in the manner aforesaid, at the expense of such bank or banking association, to be collected in the manner above provided.

SEC. 8. Appointments of agents made in pursuance of this act, may be revoked and new appointments of agents made from time to time, by delivering such revocation and appointment to the bank comptroller, who shall cause the same to be published as before provided.

SEC. 9. It shall be lawful for any number of banks or banking associations, authorized by this act, to appoint an agent to associate together for raising a joint fund, to be placed in the hands of their common agent for the redemption of their circulating notes, in the city of Milwaukee or Madison, and also the circulating notes of other banks in such manner, and under such regulations as may be agreed upon, and to employ such agents and clerks as they may deem necessary to carry on the business of such common agency; but nothing in this section contained shall authorize the redemption or purchase by such agency of any circulating notes at a rate of discount greater than is herein provided for, nor relieve such banks from any duty or liability required or imposed by this act.

SEC. 10. Every such bank or banking association in this state, except such banks and banking associations as now are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall redeem and pay on demand, in the lawful money of the United States, all circulating notes issued by such banks or banking associations, presented for redemption at the office of the agent of such bank or banking association, during the usual hours of business of bankers, between the hours of ten and three o'clock, at a rate of discount not exceeding three-fourths of one per cent.

SEC. 11. Every bank or banking association, whose agent shall neglect or refuse to redeem its notes on demand, as aforesaid, shall, on proof being made to the bank comptroller of such neglect or refusal, by the affidavit of the person who presented said notes for redemption or payment, and on depositing in his office the notes so presented, be subject to the same penalties, and be proceeded against in the same manner, as is now provided by law for cases where the circulating notes of any bank or banking association are protested for nonpayment, unless the comptroller shall be satisfied that there is a good and legal defence against the payment of such notes.

SEC. 12. Every bank and banking association shall redeem its circulating notes as now provided by law, but in case of neglect or refusal to redeem its notes on presentation at its counter, and of protest therefor, such bank or banking association, if not located within the city of Milwaukee or the city of Madison, shall not be liable to the holder of such notes for damages: Provided, it shall within fifteen days after receiving notice from the comptroller to pay the same, redeem said notes in the lawful money of the United States, with interest at the rate of fifteen per cent per annum; Provided, that the officer or officers of such bank or banking association so neglecting or refusing to redeem its notes on demand, may endorse upon the bills or package of bills so presented, an acknowledgement of such presentation and refusal, and waiving protest upon the same; and such endorsement shall be held as evidence of the statement therein made.

SEC. 13. No bank or banking association shall hereafter receive upon the deposite of bonds, circulating notes to an amount exceeding three times its bona fide cash capital actually paid in, and the bank comptroller is hereby authorized and required to ascertain what the actual cash capital of any bank or banking association applying for circulation, except in exchange for mutilated bills, may be, and for this purpose he is authorized to examine any person on oath, and to compel answers under oath, from any officer or stockholder of any bank or banking association so applying, or any other person.

SEC. 14. No bank or banking association shall hereafter be organized in this state, nor shall any more circulating notes be issued to any bank or banking association in this state, unless said bank or banking association shall have a bona fide cash capital of at least fifteen thousand dollars actually paid in, which shall remain in such bank or banking association as capital, and employed in legitimate banking at the place where the bank is located; and it is hereby declared that the bonds deposited with the bank comptroller shall not be considered as any evidence of the existence of capital in any such bank or banking association, nor of the amount and extent of such capital; and it is hereby made the duty of the comptroller, before issuing any more circulating notes to any such bank or banking association now organized, or that shall be hereafter organized, except in exchange for mutilated notes, to satisfy himself by an examination under oath of an officer or stockholder of such bank or banking association that it has fully complied with the provisions of this section, and of the next preceding section of this act, and for the purposes of such examination the comptroller, or in his absence the deputy comptroller, is hereby authorized to administer oaths; Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to permit any bank to issue circulating notes to any greater amount than its nominal capital.

SEC. 15. From and after the first day of December next it shall not be lawful for any bank or banking association, banker, broker, company or corporation, to circulate or attempt to circulate, or to pay out as money, any bill, note or other evidence of debt, issued or purporting to have been issued by any bank, banking association, company, corporation or individual located or residing out of this state, unless said bill, or note or evidence of debt shall, for the last six months preceding such circulating or paying out, have been redeemable in the city of New York or Boston in current money of the United States, at a rate of discount not exceeding three fourths of one per cent; and the decision of the bank comptroller as to the rate of such discount shall be final and conclusive. Every bank or banking association, banker or broker, corporation or company, offending against the provisions of this section shall forfeit for each and every offense the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered with costs of suit in the name and for the use of any person who shall sue for the same and prosecute such suit to judgment in any court having cognizance thereof.

SEC. 16. Each and every person owning or holding stock in any bank or banking association, who shall sell, transfer or assign his stock or any portion thereof, in any such bank or banking association, shall be held, and remain for the term of six months from and after such sale, transfer or assignment, as aforesaid, personally liable to the amount of stock so as aforesaid sold, transferred or assigned by him for the payment of all the debts and liabilities of such bank or banking association, existing at the time of such sale, transfer or assignment.

SEC. 17. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of December, eighteen hundred and sixty-one.

SEC. 18. All acts or parts of acts conflicting with, or in any way contravening the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 19. At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, in the year 1861, at all the usual places of holding elections in this state, for the election of all officers required by law then to be elected, the question whether this act shall become a law and go into effect, or in any manner be in force, shall be submitted to the people, and if the same shall be approved by a majority of all the votes cast on the subject, it shall go into effect; otherwise, it shall not go into effect nor be in force.

SEC. 20. The votes cast on the subject specified in the last preceding section shall be by separate ballot, and shall have written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, on each of them, the words: "For Amendments to the Banking Law;" or "Against Amendments to the Banking Law," which words shall indicate the vote for or against the approval of this act; and the ballots so cast shall be canvassed and returned in the same manner as the votes cast for state officers are required by law to be canvassed, and the secretary of state shall immediately, on the completion of said canvass, publish a statement of the result thereof in the official state paper, and shall communicate the same to the next legislature at the commencement of the session, and he shall also deliver to the state treasurer a certified copy thereof, with a statement of the result of the canvass upon the subject immediately after the completion of the canvass.

Chapter 242, approved April 13, 1861; Chapter 1, Extra Session, approved May 25, 1861.

Said election to be conducted, the votes canvassed and returns made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 7 of the Revised Statutes of 1858.

DAILY GAZETTE.

A Defence of Fremont.—We make the following extracts from a private letter received in this city, written by a gentleman of high integrity in constant communication with Gen. Fremont.—N. Y. Post.

"Just now it is impossible for the general to attend to anything not bearing directly on his expedition, and you have no idea of the number of men who are disappointed by not getting him to attend to their "little matters."

It is too bad that the New York papers should pitch into him as they do. He does not particularly care, but it makes him laugh to see the ridiculous falsity of certain of their reports and criticisms, and indignant that they expect a man to be efficient while they are working their best to ruin him.

The government wishes battles fought—but, with 150,000 men at Washington and the great east and middle states to draw from, takes from Fremont's little army 5,000 well armed men, and diverts thousands more from his meagre ranks.

The government wishes an army raised and equipped out west, but furnishes the western department no money.

The government wishes the rebellion put down, and when the chord is struck that vibrates joy to every loyal heart and fear to those of traitors, the cold hand comes down upon it with a harsh grating, and the music ceases and the people grieve.

The government is willing that the people should have the statement of affairs, but when Fremont telegraphs that Lexington has fallen, and gives the reasons why the reinforcements sent did not reach it, the government allows the first clause to be published and the reasons are suspended.

The papers are as bad. One asks why Mulligan could not get water if he were on the banks of a river! Is it impossible to imagine a fortified camp defending the land approaches to a point, and separated from the river by a hostile town?

Another says that Fremont's repeated blunders should be investigated by a court-martial. Who was court-martialed for Bethel and Bull Run?

Another thinks Fremont ought to leave the Mississippi alone till he has conquered Missouri. I wonder how Ohio and Illinois would like to see the rebels in possession of Cairo and the Ohio river, with power to push north and east.

I wonder how long southeastern Missouri and St. Louis would be safe with free entrance from the south!

The enemy have taken Lexington. I fervently pray they may be tempted to hold it, and advance further. I am mistaken if they do not get into a nut cracker.

If Fremont leaves the western department the Germans will be likely to lay down their arms. And if the government shall desire further armies from the west it will be compelled to draft."

A natural "fire and brimstone" work is in operation at Coso, southern California, though there is no evidence that the people are like those of Sodom and Gomorrah.—hot steam and sulphur are discharged through an infinite number of pipes by an active volcano. The sulphur, congealing, forms the pure brimstone of commerce, and is surrounded with a coating of pure alum. These wonderful springs cover about two acres of ground. The steam issuing from the pipes is so hot as to immediately blister the hand in coming in contact with it. The ground is generally so soft and hot that planks have to be used in crossing it. The discoverers of this profitable volcano are a couple of Yankees, named Brooks and Hart, and they claim a pre-emption right, for purposes of trade. The "infernal regions" would never daunt our money-making explorers.

Visit of the Regiment to the City.—The promised visit of the 8th regiment to the city occurred this afternoon. The men wore their new overcoats and made a splendid appearance. Among the officers Col. Murphy and Lt. Col. Robbins especially excel as horsemen.

The eagle, borne in the centre of the bristling ranks, spreading his wings occasionally upon a sudden movement of his perch, was an object that attracted much attention.

After marching about the park, the regiment was drawn up in Wisconsin avenue in front of the capitol house, where they were addressed by Gov. Randall in a brief and appropriate speech.

After three cheers for Governor Randall, three for Quartermaster General Tredway, three for Paymaster Mills, and three more, with a prolonged tiger, for the ladies, the regiment again took up the line of march and returned to camp.

The 8th is in appearance the finest regiment that has yet gone from this state, and Wisconsin will never have cause to be otherwise than proud of them, unless we mistake the character of both men and officers.—Madison Journal.

Suicide of Dr. Ripley.—We were very much surprised last Saturday to hear that Dr. Ripley, for several years a resident of this city, had committed suicide by inflicting a number of wounds upon his breast one day last week, at his residence in Walworth county, Wisconsin. We understand that he had been very much depressed for several days in consequence of a trade he had made for a patent right of some kind which had proved a humbug. He had traded all or nearly all of his property for it, which was considerable, we understand, and the knowledge that he had beed swindled so operated upon him as to render him, it is stated, partially insane, and while in that state he inflicted such wounds upon his person as to cause his death, though not immediately as we are told, he lived several hours after the fatal wound was inflicted. We understand that his wife, an estimable woman, was absent at the time and only reached his bedside to see him die.—Rockford Democrat.

Wm. B. Astor's Regiment.—Capt. Chas. McKencie of Adrian, Michigan, an old soldier who served in the Black Hawk war, passed through here on his way home, having received instructions to recruit a company for William B. Astor's regiment.

The company is to be organized and equipped at Mr. Astor's expense, who is using all endeavors to render it as fine a regiment as there is in the service.—Cleveland Herald.

The Knickerbocker tells of the last dodge for "raising the wind." Some fellow in Boston advertises that he will send "a finely engraved portrait of George Washington, and another of Benjamin Franklin, to any address, for one dollar." The purchaser receives in due time a three cent and a one cent postage stamp!

GREAT REDUCTION

—IN—

The Prices

—OF—

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

☞ Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

Is Washington Safe?

According to the most reliable information to be obtained, there was around Washington a week ago, an army of about 240,000 men, and it may safely be set down at 250,000 at this time. There are in the vicinity of Washington twenty-nine forts and three stationary batteries, most of them probably well entrenched and mounted. With these fortifications it is estimated by good judges that 40,000 men would be an ample force to guard the national capital, provided portions of the rebel army are withdrawn, as it seems probable they must be, to protect their coast, now exposed to an easy attack from our forces at almost every point. If our figures are correct, and we have the utmost confidence that they are, there can be no two ways in the answer to our caption: "WASHINGTON IS SAFE!"

Some of our readers may be curious enough to push the inquiry further and ask if a few from this surplus force of 200,000 men could not now be safely spared for offensive operations, or to reinforce important points in other portions of the country now seriously menaced by the enemy, and evidently held by an inadequate force.—Among these, western Virginia and various points in Kentucky and Missouri might be mentioned. These places unquestionably need strengthening, and if these inquiries are not strictly proper in the present state of the country, they are certainly significant.

We have it from the best authority—from persons direct from the south, and from their own newspapers, that all the principal places in the rebel states upon the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico are in an utterly defenceless condition. A formidable attack upon any of them would be sure of success. Such a movement, if it had no other good effect, would confirm the fears the rebel leaders already entertain, and cause them to suspend all offensive operations, and withdraw their forces from Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, leaving the conquest of these states an easy one for our forces, giving us the power not only of cleaning out these states of rebels, but of holding them until they got sufficiently strong to protect themselves. We hope to learn soon that such suggestions have been anticipated by our government, and that expeditions are already on the way to accomplish these desirable objects.

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

Speech of a Tennessee Clergyman on the War.

Rev. W. B. Carter, who left Tennessee with many other loyalists when the storm of secession swept over the state, addressed an enthusiastic meeting in Cincinnati, recently, in which he said: "That great king, Jeff. Davis—I don't call him 'your excellency,' as Mr. Nelson does, [laughter,] and I don't call him President Davis—what does he do? His congress passed a law giving us poor dogs forty days to leave our country—forty days to leave or submit. Get on the train and go down to Camp Robinson, where you will find fifteen hundred or two thousand men who were rich the other day—without a cent in their pockets—men who were reared in every comfort and luxury—without a change of raiment. I can show you men among them who have travelled over hard and rough roads fifty miles in a single day to escape their pursuers. Has any man in Ohio travelled fifty miles on foot to volunteer in defense of the flag? These men have done it. Every man of them is sworn to defend the stars and stripes. Some of them were shot down by the pursuing cavalry, and died in the Cumberland Mountains. But, thank God, the Cumberland Mountains also contain the bones of traitors. I have seen fathers in Eastern Tennessee hide their little store of bread and meat, to feed their little ones. The rebels have overrun our fields of grain and destroyed them as with a besom of destruction. Oh! my God, when will the day of retribution come? What think you of these things, freemen of Cincinnati? But notwithstanding all our sufferings and all our trials—notwithstanding all our poverty, I am thanful to-night that I am a native of East Tennessee. I am glad—I thank God for it—that my fate for weal or woe has been cast with such a people. Now, what is the position of East Tennessee? I know that she has the admiration of our country, and justly so. There she is, sitting with a population of three hundred thousand, bound in upon the east by the traitorous state of Virginia, upon the south by North Carolina—and I am glad to say that in North Carolina there are many noble hearts who long to see the good old flag, and to rally under its folds. There, upon the west, is middle Tennessee, and upon the north we have the border of good old friendly Kentucky—our only source of salvation, in our present troubles.

On the slavery question, Mr. Carter said: "If in the course of this war—and I say it notwithstanding a portion of all I once owned in this world—for I do not know that to-night I own anything—if in the progress of this war it becomes necessary for the salvation of this government and the preservation of the union of these states that African slavery shall die, in the name of high Heaven, I say let it perish. [Loud and long continued cheering.] I tell you honestly that the negro has, in my estimation, nothing more to do with this trouble in our country, except in one aspect—it has no more to do with these troubles than the man in the moon. [Applause.] There is one aspect, and I will briefly refer to it. It is this: The southern leaders never did have the least fear that our government would interfere with our vested rights in the slave states. They know very well that congress cannot do it. There are fifteen slave states in the Union. There would have to be full forty-five free states before the constitution could be altered so as to interfere with slavery—twenty-six free states would have to be added to the Union. While the north would be doing this the south would make three or four states out of Texas, and so on. No, this is not what they fear. But there is an aspect on which this slavery question does influence the southern mind—the southern leaders. I will tell you what they are afraid of. They are not afraid of this great government interfering with them, as appears from the fact that the institution was safer when we were all together than it is to-day. Here is what they are afraid of. They have learned by experience that proslavery ideas will not travel towards the north pole, but that anti-slavery ideas will travel southward. They are afraid that the people of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, may take it into their heads to abolish slavery in their domain, and they want to make a government in which the people can't rid themselves of it if they wish."

A DARING DEED.—An incident has come to our knowledge connected with the warfare in Western Virginia that is well worth relating. Shortly after the battle of Carnifax Ferry, and about the time of the death of Col. John A. Washington, the enemy became very bold and insolent, and not only shot our pickets and attacked our scouting parties even when in large force, but did not hesitate to appear before our entrenchments and menace our entire army. At that time communication was cut off between our camp at Elkwater and that at Cheat Mountain Summit, the rebels holding possession of the road. It was necessary that communication should be re-established between Gen. Reynolds at the former place and Col. Kimball at the latter. Several attempts had been made, but the messengers had been killed in every case.—Four had already set out and had been picked off. The whole camp at Elkwater was in danger, and it was necessary to get word to the Summit at once, and another young man volunteered, but he, too, was never heard from after he left camp. The commanding officer then stated to his men their danger, and called upon some one to again volunteer to perform the risk. Not a man responded in all the camp, until at last one was found in Capt. Loomis' Michigan battery. A young man named Henry H. Norrington, of Detroit, and well known in the city, offered to peril his life to save the others. He started out and succeeded in eluding the enemy, crawling miles upon his hands and knees, with his messages rolled up and in his mouth ready to swallow in a moment if he was taken, and finally reached the friendly camp.

He also had to return, and, after receiving his dispatches, set out in the night, the whole camp shaking hands with him, never expecting to see him again. He traveled all night, guided by the north star, and the next day crawled as before on his hands and knees. He finally struck the main road a few miles below Elkwater. Seeing one of the enemy's cavalry horses tied to a stake by the roadside, and the owner not visible, he crept up, cut the rope with his knife, and rode off in hot haste, with several shot whizzing around him. He arrived safely in camp and delivered his dispatches, being the only survivor of the six that had attempted the perilous task.

As a reward for his bravery and daring, he was promoted in the company to be chief of a piece, and was placed upon the commanding general's staff as mounted orderly. He was presented by the captain of his company with a sword, and by the general with an elegant revolver. He was greeted upon the parade with nine cheers by the entire command, and his pay more than doubled. Besides this, favorable mention was made of his feat and the great service he had performed, in the official report forwarded to the department at Washington.—Detroit Free Press.

The New Lisbon Argus says the cranberry market is active at that place, berries selling at from sixty-five to eighty cents per bushel.

Last Night's Report.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Times.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.

Jefferson City continues very quiet—the alarm about the burning of the Gasconade bridge is entirely over.

It is now said that the report of an advance of rebels on Herman was merely the result of a panic, that no secessionists were visible anywhere in the vicinity.

The communication between here and St. Louis is perfectly safe.

Four federals, of Col. Peabody's command, arrived here this evening from Lexington, having left that place on Saturday night.

There were still a number of secession stragglers in the town, and a report was circulated among them that a portion of the rebels had been cut off, while retreating south, by Sigel, and five hundred taken prisoners. This story is evidently incorrect.

Cols. White and Grover are still at Lexington.

The former is said to be slowly recovering, and the latter to be in a very dangerous state.

The four men who came all the way down the Missouri in a skiff, say they observed no batteries nor bodies of rebels at any point.

They heard of a secession camp at Brunswick, but did not see it.

Further reports state that Price continues to make rapid progress southward, tho' it is thought the swollen condition of the Osage will impede his retreat.

Many think Fremont will overtake him, but it is probable that he will not do so until the rebel body reaches the state line.

The secessionists at Springfield declare that if they are compelled to desert the town they will burn it to the ground.

An officer of Col. Ellis' west Missouri cavalry informs me that three of their regiment were taken prisoners near Tipton by rebel scouts, last night, and their comrades are now endeavoring to recapture them.

Georgetown and Sedalia were very quiet at last accounts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Reconnoisances to-day, under the immediate direction of Gen. McClellan, demonstrate that the confederates are in very strong force in about their former positions, stretching from Leesburgh, through Fairfax, along the Occocquan river, and a short distance down the Potomac.

Their forces number certainly one hundred and fifty thousand, and some estimates say as high as two hundred thousand men.

The government made arrangements today with several iron foundries at Pittsburgh to insure a largely increased supply of cannon during the next two months.

Hon. J. F. Potter, chairman of the investigating committee of the house of representatives, on the 8th inst., called the attention of the navy department to a statement in the newspapers, that Capt. J. H. Morrison, of the steamer Fanny, which was captured by the rebels off Cape Hatteras, was imprisoned at Fortress Monroe for refusing to take the oath of allegiance, and inquired if the statement was true in whole or part. The department to-day replies as follows:

NAVY DEPARTMENT, Oct. 9.

SIR—Your letter of the 8th inst., relative to the newspaper reports concerning the master of the steamer Fanny, has been received. The steamer alluded to was not, at the time of her capture, in the service of this department, and has never been employed by it, and the same may be said of the captain. This department has no knowledge of him whatever, and I have no reason to suppose that, at the time of the capture of the Fanny, a single person in any way connected with the navy was on board of her. Very resp'ly yours, &c.

GIDEON WELLES.

Gen. Hancock's brigade, which is a part of Gen. W. F. Smith's division, at the Chain Bridge, advanced and took position near Lewinsville. After waiting three hours, inviting an attack, our skirmishers advanced and took possession of Lewinsville, the rebels retreating.

A slave was restored to his master yesterday by a Pennsylvania regiment. A file of soldiers escorted the pseudo contraband two miles beyond our lines.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.

Dr. Hayes, of the Polar expedition, arrived here this morning in the United States. The party are all well. Two have died, namely: August Sontag, the astronomer, and Gibson Caruthers. Dr. Hayes reached Smith's Straits on the 26th of August, last year, but could not penetrate the straits with his vessel either last season or this. He wintered at Port Fouke, near Alexander, and with dogs and sleds, reached lat. 81° 35′ May 18th, this year.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.

Brownson's article on emancipation, has been published for free distribution among the Irish.

Several officers, released on parole from Lexington, left to-day on a visit to Chicago.

The city foundries, during the past week or two, have been busily engaged in turning out shot and shell of all sizes, for government use.

News from Springfield states that wagons and negroes continue to pass there on the way south.

A fight took place in Holt county, between a squadron of United States cavalry, 50 strong, under Lieut. Tyler, and 200 rebels, under Capt. Ish. The latter were routed, with the loss of eight or ten.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

The policy of the government in regard to employing foreigners in the military service is as follows, the statement being made on good authority: First, no one has been authorized to enlist or raise troops in Canada, as has been affirmed to be understood there; second, no commissions have been offered, or other overtures made, to military men in France or other European states, as has been assumed there; third, the government has not tendered the command of the army to Gen. Garibaldi, as has been represented in Europe. What is true is—first, that every foreigner who has come with a good character and credentials, and offered his services to the government in support of the Union, has been accepted, and no other is in the military employment of the United States: second, Gen. Garibaldi, being a naturalized citizen, it was reported to the government by one of our consuls that the general was contemplating a visit to this country, and that he had intimated conditionally a disposition to engage in the service of the United States. He was informed that, if this was so, his services would be accepted with pleasure, and he would receive a commission as major general, being the same rank which was conferred on Gen. Lafayette in the war of the Revolution. Gen. Garibaldi, upon consideration of the subject, has concluded not to offer his services at present, but thinks he may by-and-by visit the United States.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Lewinsville will be retained as well as the other positions taken by our forces today. A portion of the troops under Brig. Gen. Porter, also advanced and occupied Minor's Hill, to the right of Falls Church, and commanding that village and Barret's Hill. The latter is now in possession of the rebel pickets.

Gen. McClellan and staff, accompanied by Capt. Barker's dragoons, crossed over the chain bridge at an early hour this morning, spending the whole day in making reconnoisance of the new positions taken by the federal troops.

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Capt. Barney, of the 24th New York, advanced three miles beyond Falls Church, on the Leesburg turnpike, with ten men, where he surprised a picket guard of Col. Stewart's rebel cavalry. Three of them were killed and one taken prisoner. They also captured five horses equipped, thirteen navy pistols and one carbine and one telescope. The horse killed was a white one, which has often been seen by our pickets, and is believed to belong to Capt. Powell of Stewart's cavalry. The capture took place within half a mile of the enemy's camps.

No official returns are obtainable but the impression is that the people's ticket has a majority in the Philadelphia camps.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Commander Chauncey arrived here this evening from Hatteras Inlet. He reports that on Monday the rebels organized an expedition to attack and recapture the forts occupied by our forces. The expedition consisted of six steamboats and three thousand men. The steamers were armed with heavy rifled cannon and mortars for throwing shells. The attack was simultaneous but ineffectual. The forts fired shells and were assisted by the vessels stationed off the Inlet. After a time the rebels retired, though not before two or three steamers had been sunk, going down with all on board. Judging from the crowded appearance of the vessels, it is estimated that about seven hundred men were drowned, besides a large loss must have been sustained from the bursting of our shells and the plunging of our shot, as the guns were served in most masterly manner.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.

Tribune's dispatch.—There is reason to believe in the report from New Orleans, via Richmond, announcing the presence of national vessels at the head passes of the Mississippi. They are doubtless acting under instructions given long since, and engaged in protecting the men building batteries on each side of the river above the point where the five mouths diverge, for the purpose of effectually blockading them all. The guns to be mounted are probably the twenty eight 9-inch Dahlgreens which were ordered for Pickens, and not being required there were put ashore at Tortugas. The Mississippi will be effectually closed by these batteries; twenty vessels could not do it so well.

The Potter investigating committee adjourned to-day. The first report includes the names of 237 employees against whom evidence of treason was presented. Tomorrow the second report will be presented giving 235 more. Investigations will probably be renewed at the commencement of the session of congress.

Five colonels stand ready to command five regiments of Illinois cavalry to be raised, which is pressed upon the war department by Gov. Yates and others. The department is willing to accept one and the others as infantry. The cavalry regiment of Col. Barrett is accepted, to serve on the Indiana frontier. The Illinoisians are also pressing the claims of Chicago for the western arsenal.

Brigham Young has lost the Utah Valley, one of the most fertile in Utah, after having announced his intention to settle it with Saints. The President, by an order dated October, has directed an Indian reservation to be made there.

The Secretary of War and the Adjutant General left this city for St. Louis on Tuesday.

Herald's dispatch.—If there is any desire for a fight by the rebels, it is very likely they will be gratified to-morrow, not only in front but up and down the river.

Deserters from the rebel camp and our scouts corroborate the opinion that the rebel army is not disposed to make an advance upon our lines, or to accept the proffered battle.

The dispatches to the war department to-day are more encouraging than heretofore in regard to the movements of Gen. Fremont in Missouri.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.

The election of the city council to-day was very quietly conducted. The rebels made no opposition. The whole Union ticket was elected.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

ELKWATER, Va., Oct 10.

Gen. Reynolds has made two reconnoisances in force, within the last few days, against Gen. Lee, and has driven him from Big Spring. A part of the army under Gen. Lee is said to have joined Floyd at Big Spring. They destroyed their camp equippage and ammunition, and burned several hundred muskets, and left their wagons, &c. The road is absolutely impassable for wagons, beyond a point of twelve miles from Elkwater.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

It was Col. Brainsted of the 1st Georgia regiment who was killed near Hatteras Inlet. Col. Brown, of the 20th Indiana, states that his loss in killed, wounded, &c., is not less than 70. In retreating the enemy captured military stores and a considerable number of arms, knapsacks and tents. The regiment had no other weapons than muskets. The rebel rendezvous is Roanoke Island, about 12 miles from the scene of action, and well fortified. It has been determined at Fort Monroe to use all exertions to augment the strength of our forces on the North Carolina coast.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.

The Commercial's Kanawha advices say Gen. Rosecranz is at Mountain Cove, a strong position 25 miles beyond Gauley.—He had advanced 10 miles further to Little Sewall, but the enemy was too well entrenched and too strong at Big Sewall. Rosecranz fell back as an invitation to the enemy to come out and have a fair fight.—There was no expectation of an attempt by the enemy to force his position. The weather in Gauley region is terribly bad, rain falls almost incessantly. Rosecranz's troops are well clothed, having plenty of overcoats and blankets. The fight at Chapmansville was a sharp and bloody affair, five of Piatt's Zouaves were killed. Rebel loss 35 killed.

A dispatch from Gen. Reynolds to Gov. Morton, dated Hunterville, the 8th, says:—The enemy in our front in Hunterville has been driven to Green Bave Springs, twenty miles beyond Big Springs, their late rendezvous. They are about fifty miles from Elkwater, and twelve from Cheat Mountain.—The roads towards Hunterville are impassable for wheels. The enemy destroyed hundreds of muskets, tents, camp equippage, &c.; several wagons fell into our hands.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.

Special to the Post.—The Bank of Washington refuses to take the treasury notes. The bank has not redeemed its own issue since last fall, and congress will probably close the disloyal concern next winter.

A Union newspaper has just been issued at Alexandria.

Several government contractors for army blankets have failed to comply with their agreements.

Seven thousand tons of Cumberland coal were brought down by canal during the month of September.

Gen. Harney is expected to arrive to-day.

The frigate Pensacola goes down to Alexandria to-day, but will not be ready for sea for several weeks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

The Post says there is not a word of truth in the Times' dispatch about one hundred rebels being drowned by the fire of the Monticello, near Hatteras Inlet.

FORT MONROE, Oct 9.

The tug Young America, while sounding the channel of James river yesterday, exchanged a few shots with Pig Point battery. Several shells exploded near her but did no harm.

The Union gun is now mounted so as to sweep the road between Fortress Monroe and Sewell's Point.

Gen. Wool and Quartermaster Tallmadge have recommenced quartering troops at Old Point and Newport News for the winter, in comfortable wooden houses built to accommodate two or three companies each. Similar quarters will soon be erected for contrabands.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.

Flour market slightly favors buyers; sales 10,000 bbls. 5,25a5,35 super state, 5,45a5,55 extra state, 5,25a5,35 super western, 5,45a5,70 common to medium extra western. Wheat market 1a2c lower; sales 70,000 bu. 1,17a1,18 Milwaukee club, 1,20 amber Iowa.

A FIGHTING CLERGYMAN.—Rev. B. C. Ward, pastor of a Congregational church in the village of Genesseo, Illinois, conceives it to be his duty to forsake the pulpit for the field. He has received authority to raise a company of infantry, but proposes to enlist clergymen only. An appeal to his clerical brethren, published over his own signature, calls upon "the fighting stock of the church militant" to prove to the world their willingness to "seal with their blood what they have talked in their pulpits," and closes with this extraordinary passage:

"Much as we have done and said to prove our loyalty, we have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin. Shall we now, at the call of Christ, come out from behind our velvet cushioned barracks, whence we have so often hurled bold, indignant words at the giant iniquity of the age, and meet it face to face with the hot shot of rifled artillery, with the gleaming bayonet, or with clashing sabres in a hand to hand encounter?"

"Parson" Brownlow, of Tennessee, has hitherto borne the title of the "fighting parson," but he has never gone so far as this Illinois clergyman, and Mr. Ward is clearly entitled to wear the honors.

PLUCKY KANSAS.—This young state seems to be like a Kilkenny cat, all fight. She has furnished, complete or nearly full, nine regiments for the war, besides turning out thirty day men when an emergency required, and every able bodied man in the state is said to be undergoing drill, and ready for fight. Kansas has some old scores with the border ruffians of Missouri to pay off, the accumulation of which trained her men for fighting, and the recollection of which doubtless gives a keen edge to her patriotism. The Missouri secessionists are of the same breed that furnished the border ruffians, therefore the retributive justice can hardly go amiss among them.

SOLD AS A SLAVE.—We learn from the best authority, that John May, a young light-colored mulatto, who formerly worked in Yancey's barber shop, and who went as cook in Capt. McNulty's cavalry company, and with them captured at Lexington, Mo., has been carried off and sold as a slave down on Red River, Arkansas. This intelligence comes in a letter from him to his friends in this place. The peculiar institution which cherishes in its bosom men of the principle which permits them to do a deed like the foregoing certainly ought to be preserved.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

FREE NEGRO CONTRIBUTIONS.—A number of the "First gentlemen" of Charleston have negro children, whom they have liberated and assisted in business. Among these may be mentioned the proprietor of a machine shop named Weston, who is reputed to be worth $80,000; Deriff, a wood factor, $60,000; Howard, a wood and brick factor, $30,000. Another Weston has a large tailoring establishment, employing some twenty colored tailors, is quite wealthy. All these men are made to contribute largely to the fund for the army, and subscriptions were also exacted from the more humble of the free colored population.

OPERATIONS ON ENFIELD RIFLES.—A correspondent of the London Merchants Magazine, states that in the completed Enfield rifle there are 61 different parts, and in the production of these parts and finishing one rifle 800 different machines are used. About 350 rifles are finished per day, and 2,000 operatives are employed. One out of every four rifles is fitted with a sword bayonet, the rest with the common musket bayonet. Some of Terry's breech-loading carbines are being made at present for cavalry at Enfield.

Capt. Requa, of the First regiment, has resigned his command of the Stedman Guards in consequence of physical disability. Calling his company together in Camp Scott, he informed them of his resignation and made an affecting speech, when they all knelt down and he offered up a soul-stirring prayer in their behalf. The boys had all learned to love him and parted with him with regret. A new election was then held, and 1st lieutenant Adams elected captain, and all the rest of the officers promoted one step.—Daily Life.

COST OF EQUIPMENT.—We learn from General Tredway, that the cost of equipping the 7th regiment, exclusive of arms and accoutrements, is $43,045,25, and of the 8th, $42,560,42. The average cost of the regiments so far equipped, is about $46,600. The excess in the average is caused by the expensive manner in which the first regiments were provided for, thro' inexperience and greeness in the business. —Madison Patriot.

R. D. Ketchum, of Portage was killed on Thursday of last week, by accidentally alling from a steamboat wharf at Waupaca. A steamer was lying at the wharf, and he was crushed against the latter.

COST OF MUSIC.—The secretary of war is becoming impatient with the expense of bands of music for the army, as it already amounts to a sum that will make this single item of expenditure four million dollars a year.

A TRUE PATRIOT.—Mr. Flannigan, of the town of Cascade, sixty years old, has furnished five sons who have become soldiers—three in Wisconsin regiments, and two in Missouri, and he says he will go himself if it is necessary.

COL. DOUSMAN DECLINED.—We are authorized to say that Col. H. L. Dousman positively and unqualifiedly refuses to be a candidate for state treasurer, and that if elected he would not accept the office.—Wisconsin.

PILGRIMS TO THE LAND OF FREEDOM.—Quite a stream of teams, cattle, families, etc., came over from Missouri to-day, and put off for the interior counties of Illinois, where they can be safe from the depredations of secession. Many of them avow their determination to return and fight for the Union after their families are in safe quarters, but a Missouri friend who is pretty well posted on matters there says they generally do not return. The Hegira of so many Union and non-combatting people from north-east Missouri as the last few months have witnessed, explains in part why Matt Green has carried such a high hand there. If the Union men valued their known rights as much as the traitors do their imagined ones, Missouri would present a better aspect to-day.—Quincy Whig.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Munson, the proprietor of Munson's Hill, in Virginia, from which the rebels have just retreated, has been, with his daughter, spending several days at Salisbury, Connecticut. His farm embraces about two hundred acres. He was compelled to leave it after the retreat of our troops from Bull Run. His son, who remained behind for a few days, had his horse shot under him by the rebels, when he was finally compelled to fly, but escaped himself unharmed. The whole family are devoted to the Union, and Mr. M. was one of the very few persons in that vicinity who voted for Lincoln at the last election. His house and barns have all been burned.

LARGE HAUL OF CONTRABAND GOODS.—Within the past three or four days the government agents in this city have discovered and secured, in transitu, goods and property bound south, to give aid and comfort to the rebel army, valued at over fifty thousand dollars. The property was found partly here and partly in Quincy. More is yet in process of being secured, and particulars cannot at present be given without danger of periling the government interests. This is a large haul, will prove of great service to the Union cause, and at the same time act in a perfectly satisfactory manner upon the purse of the enemy.—Chicago Times.

A Missing Editor Found.

MERCHANT'S DESPATCH FAST FREIGHT LINE, }
NEW YORK OFFICE, Oct. 7th, 1861. }

DEAR GAZETTE:—Your "senior" is around. He tried to escape this morning, but failed to connect. Has been to Washington and can

"Tell you all about the war,
And what they killed each other for."

He and his umbrella are to leave for home this evening. We shall miss his good company and concatenations, jolly laugh, but your readers have a claim on him, and we would not be selfish. May he have a pleasant journey, and long live as a model editor, and flourish like a bulrush.

A. H. L.

We infer from the above that the friends of the "senior" are sending him home by a "fast freight line," and that he may be expected some time next week.

The Final Departure of the Eighth Regiment.

This regiment has been delayed beyond the time of its expected departure, but we are assured that the time has been definitely fixed for Saturday next. Col. Murphy writes that they will leave Madison at nine o'clock on Saturday morning, and he requests that the people of Janesville will furnish some cold refreshments for his men, to be passed to them as they are sitting in the cars. The short time allowed them in their passage through Janesville, will not make it convenient to leave the cars. The refreshments required may consist of sandwiches, pies and hot coffee in buckets.

Our citizens have been desirous of paying their respects to this fine regiment on their way through our city to Missouri, and, although they have once made preparations to do so, when there was a mistake as to time, we hope they will try it again. The Fire Zouave boys, of this city, will of course expect to see their friends, and we think they will not be disappointed.

COMPANY D.—We have received a letter from our friend Albert B. Heath, of the Janesville volunteers, in the second regiment. He says the boys are in fine spirits and getting along well. They are on duty in Virgininia, and bear their part in the important movements on that side of the river. Company D. have been some time in service, and have become familiar with a soldier's life. From all we can learn of them they are prepared to do their whole duty, on every occasion. We have but one fault to find with them, and that is, they do not write to us.

CAMP RANDALL, Oct. 9th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—I have seen through your paper that the good and patriotic people of Janesville have been preparing to give a warm reception to the Eighth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers for some time past. They will not be disappointed much longer, as I can assure you that we will pass through Janesville on Saturday next. We will leave Madison at 9 o'clock on that morning. I have the intelligence from Col. Murphy, commander of the regiment.

I am yours respectfully,
F. N. KELEY,
Lieut. 8th Reg't W. V.

HOW THE REBELS SHOW THE SEPOY.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says:

A gentleman from Barry county who left home on Monday last gives the particulars of the shooting of Messrs. Cox and Davis, near Galena, Stone county, by the rebels. A considerable force visited Galena, arrested these men and the son of the latter, and after plundering and stealing all they could, started to return with these three prisoners. When a few miles from town, the prisoners were taken out and placed a short distance from a file of soldiers, who were to execute the cruel orders for their destruction. They were then told they could either run the chances of being shot in their flight, or stand still and be shot. Knowing the chances to be about equal in both cases, Mr. Cox covered his face with his hands, and stood his ground. The other two attempted to escape, and one of them, the younger Davis, succeeded. The father and Mr. Cox were killed on the spot. The cause of their offence, my informants state, was none other than they had been warm Union men, and that they had been accused falsely, it is believed, of aiding in the taking of certain goods from the store of R. W. Crawford, a violent secessionist, now an officer in the rebel army. Such deeds of willful murder, without even the forms of a trial can find no parallel in the annals of civilized warfare.

A GOOD JOKE ON A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.—The Oswego Times tells the following good story at the expense of a conductor known among the boys as Aleck:

On the two o'clock slow freight and passenger train from Syracuse, yesterday, were a lady and her son, a youth of good dimensions, the latter traveling on a half ticket. After the innumerable stoppages and delays in unloading freight, &c., by which the patience of the passengers is usually exhausted long before they reach this city, the conductor made his appearance for tickets. Glancing at the pasteboard received from the boy, he looked first at him, then at his mother, and then at the ticket, and remarked that he was "a large boy to be riding at half fare." "I know," said the lady; "I know he is, sir, but then he's grown a good deal since we started." The last that was seen of Aleck he was on his way to speak to the engineer about it.

LOCK JAW.—A Mr. Ashman, a German piano maker, residing on the corner of 9th and Tamarack streets, died last Sunday from lock jaw. Deceased had a rusty nail run into his foot, which was extracted by his son, when his leg began to swell, the swelling extending over the body. Medical attendance was had in vain, and he died in great agony.—Daily Life.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the Fifth Regiment.

CAMP AT VANDERWERKEN, Va., Oct. 5th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE:—We are in camp, and the boys are all employed in some avocation, some playing the violin, others washing dishes, others engaged in writing home, a number engaged in and apparently enjoying themselves at various games, while the rest are fast asleep, taking all the rest they can before 2 o'clock, as then we are to drill one hour as skirmishers. We are drilling four times each day now, getting ready for the fall campaign, and the boys say they feel as though they were at home in Camp Randall. Our generals seem to be determined that we shall be ready if we ever meet the enemy, to give them a good reception, and welcome them to a traitor's grave.

We were out on picket day before yesterday, and were stationed with some New York, Pennsylvania and Maine boys. There were some of each state on every post, and although I say it, our regiment will not suffer in any respect, in size, equipments or discipline, and certainly not in numbers when compared with the best of them.—Some of them were not very much used to picket duty, and by putting them on with those who are more used to it, the duty is better performed than it would be were we stationed separate. Our picket is very heavy now, being more than six hundred men, and we extend the lines nearly every day—thus you see we are conquering the "Old Dominion" step by step, and unless we have a serious drawback, which I believe will never happen while we follow the plan our generals are using now, we will by spring have driven the last vestige of secession into the everglades of Florida. When our men took possession of Munson's Hill they found there a large number of southern papers and letters, which the soldiers had written home but which had not been sent. The papers represent that Beauregard says that all Gen. McClellan knows how to do is to keep his batteries on the hills, while his men cut away the groves and play Yankee Doodle. Beauregard may think differently some time, for our band has already learned "Dixie." The letters represent that the troops in the rebel army are very poorly cared for, and that their officers use them like brutes instead of men.

Our scouts, as you have learned by the papers, capture a rebel nearly every day, and sometimes several; they brought in a lieutenant last evening. He was out chestnutting, and happening to be upon a tree, was in a poor condition to fight, and poorer to run.

The successes of our navy on the coast raise the spirits of the loyal citizens here, and completes the huge anaconda of Gen. Scott with which he means to and will crush out this damnable rebellion. Yesterday evening we were all surprised by the appearance of a large balloon, which sailed very high, slowly and majestically, from some place south of us towards the east, and disappeared in the distance. We have since learned that it was one of those used by the government in observations, and that it broke loose from its moorings. But there, at the foot of the street, stands the drummer, and I must go and drill one hour, and then get ready for battalion drill and dress parade.

The boys are at work to-day cleaning up the street, and I expect we will leave here before many days. Some boys of the 7th were here yesterday, and they report its condition as being good, and from the paper notices of it I am led to believe that a better regiment has not left the state. The regiment is at Chain Bridge.

The weather here is quite warm and dry; we however, stand it very well, better than we expected, deserters from the rebel army say better than the rebels. Our scouts found some hogs and cattle at Fall's Church killed and left, just as though the rebels had been compelled to leave them at a moment's notice. Our men were hungry, but concluded that before they eat any of the meat they would have it examined by a physician, and found upon doing so, that it had been poisoned so highly that a single mouthful would have killed a person.

I remain yours in truth,
J. M. KIMBALL.

From the Eighth Regiment.

HEAD-QUARTERS JANESVILLE FIRE ZOUAVES, }
CAMP RANDALL, Oct. 9th, 1861. }

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I believe we have at last found out the time for our departure from Camp Randall—we leave here on Saturday morning, and go by the way of Janesville.

The regiment have been out for the past two days, near the University, firing blank cartridges. Each man takes ten rounds. We fired by divisions, by wing, by company, right and left oblique, and by file.—There was some cracking for about an hour each day, you had better believe, and the boys enjoy the sport very much. Some got excited and shot their rammers away, but the most of them did well, and it has been of great benefit to the men.

The 8th goes up town this afternoon to show themselves to the Madisonians.

I wish through your paper to thank Mrs. S. W. Blood and the ladies of Janesville who contributed so liberally toward the getting up of the beautiful needle cushions which we received here yesterday from them. I distributed them this morning to the men, one each, and every man said "good for the women of Janesville," "tiger," or some other expression of gratification that first entered their minds. I assure you they were beautiful presents, and will long be remembered by the receivers.

We have one man in the hospital, and three others unable to do duty. John W. Drummond, a member of my company, sprained his knee some two weeks ago, and has been unfit for duty ever since. The man in the hospital is S. Harvey—down with the fever; I hope they will be able to leave with the regiment. The sick have the best of care taken of them.

I have written much more than I expected to when I sat down. I will close.

My best respects to you all.

Yours, W. B. BRITTON,
Capt. Co. C, 8th Regt. W. V.

Forgive and Forget.

Oh! forgive and forget, for this life is too fleeting
To waste it in brooding o'er wrongs we have met,
It is better, far better, to smother our anger,
To teach the proud heart to forgive and forget.

In the path we must tread, leading down to the valley,
Are crosses and burdens to lift and to bear;
And the chalice of life from which we are drinking,
Oft bears to our lips drops of sorrow and care.

And too, in the pathway, rare flowers are blooming
Which we may gather and wear if we will;
After a tempest comes sunshine and gladness—
A valley lies over the rough, rugged hill.

But life is so short, be it sunshine or shadow,
That we cannot afford to brood over a wrong;
And a smile oft dispels heavy burdens of sorrow,
And the sad heart grows gay o'er a glad, merry song.

Then forgive and forget; if the friends you love fondly
Prove themselves false and unworthy of trust,
Deal with them kindly, for they are but mortals
Erring like us—for we, too, are but dust.

Deal with them tenderly, pity their weakness,
We know every heart hath its evil and good;
We all have our Father in Heaven—hence are brothers,
Then let us forget and forgive as we should.

having done a large business in this line for the past two months. We have now on hand a splendid line of among which are some very fine goods, which we can get up in better style than can be done at any other house in this city. For proof of what we say, we refer to fifty officers that we have made suits for in the past two months.

Blue Cloths,

Carpets and Floor Oil-Cloths.

We have now in store the largest stock of Carpets ever exhibited in this city. We are selling a splendid all wool carpet at 50 cents. We have the only real stock of

Lowell Carpets

BRUSSELS AND VELVETS.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

Having devoted the entire basement of our store to the sale of these goods, we have just received a large invoice of

in original packages from the manufacturers at a saving of

over those who buy in this country. All we have to say in this matter is, that we have much the largest stock in this city, and we shall sell it at least thirty per cent less than the same goods were ever sold for in this place. Any person wanting sets of Crockery will do well to take a look at ours before purchasing.

IN CONCLUSION,

we will say that having bought our entire stock this fall for cash, at low prices, and a great many goods much less than they are worth now, and changed our system to

SELLING ENTIRELY FOR CASH,

we propose to sell goods this fall and winter at very

LOW PRICES.

Persons visiting Janesville will give us a call, we will show them through our stock, and we think we will convince them that we mean just what we say.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

CASH CAPITAL OVER - - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

By striking out the following words: "But such public stocks shall in all cases be, or be made to be equal to a stock producing six per cent per annum; and it shall not be lawful for the bank comptroller to take such stock at a rate above its par value, nor above its current market value in the city of New York at the time of deposit, by such person or association of persons;" and by inserting in lieu thereof the following; "and it shall be lawful for the bank comptroller to issue for public stock which have been ranging at or above par during the last six months, and up to the time of deposite in the New York market, circulating notes up to the par value of said stocks; but the comptroller shall not issue for public stocks ranging below par in said market, more circulation than ninety per cent of the current market value of said stocks at the time of deposite, nor more than ninety per cent of the average market value during the last six months; and for such stocks as during the last six months have been at and above as well as below par, the comptroller shall not issue more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months, nor in any event more than ninety per cent of its market value on the day of deposite, nor more than ninety per cent of the par value of such stocks;" so that the said section shall henceforth read as follows: "Whenever, hereafter, any person or association of persons, formed for the purpose of banking under the provisions of this chapter, shall duly assign and transfer in trust to the treasurer of this state, any portion of the public stocks issued or to be issued by the United States or any state stocks, on which full interest is annually paid, such person or association of persons shall be entitled to receive from the bank comptroller an amount of such circulating notes of different denominations, registered and countersigned, and not exceeding in value the amount of public stocks assigned and tranferred as aforesaid; and it shall be lawful for the bank comptroller to issue for public stocks, which have been ranging at or above par during the last six months, and up to the time of deposite in the New York market, circulating notes up to the par value of said stocks, but the comptroller shall not issue for public stocks ranging below par in said market, more circulation than ninety per cent of the current market value of said stocks at the time of deposite, nor more than ninety per cent of the average market value during the last six months; and for such stocks as during the last six months have been at and above as well as below par, the comptroller shall not issue more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months, nor in any event more than ninety per cent of its market value on the day of deposite, nor more than ninety per cent of the par value of such stocks: Provided, that if in the opinion of the bank comptroller, together with the governor and the secretary of state, any stocks offered shall be deemed insecure, they shall not be received as such securities under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that from and after the first day of December, 1861, the bank comptroller shall not receive as security for circulating bank notes, any other public stocks than those issued by the state of Wisconsin and the United States.

SEC. 2. Any public stocks described in the preceding section, and issued at a rate of interest less than five per cent per annum, to be receiveable by the bank comptroller, shall be made to be equal to stocks producing five per cent per annum.

SEC. 3. Section 40 of chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, is hereby amended by inserting between the words "located" and "to," in the 19th line of said section, the words "or to the judge at chambers."

SEC. 4. Every bank and banking association now organized in this state, and all banks and banking associations that shall be organized before the 1st of day December, 1861, except such banks and banking associations as are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall, on or before said first day of December next, appoint an agent, who shall keep an office in the city of Milwaukee or in the city of Madison, for the redemption of all circulating notes issued by such bank or banking association, which shall be presented to such agent for payment or redemption.

SEC. 5. The appointment of such agent shall be made in writing, and such written appointment shall be delivered to the bank comptroller on or before said first day of December next, who shall file the same in his office. If any bank or banking association shall neglect or refuse to appoint such agent within the time above mentioned, the bank comptroller shall appoint such agent for such bank or banking association.

SEC. 6. The bank comptroller shall, immediately after said first day of December next, during such time as he may deem advisable, publish a list of such agents in one daily newspaper published in the city of Madison, and in one daily newspaper published in the city of Milwaukee, the expense whereof shall be equally divided among the several banks or banking associations so published, and be paid by them to the comptroller on demand, under penalty of forfeiture of one hundred dollars, to be collected and applied as provided in respect to the forfeiture named in section 19, chapter 71, of the Revised Statutes.

SEC. 7. Every bank or banking association hereafter organized, shall before receiving any circulating notes from the bank comptroller, appoint an agent for the purposes of this act; and such appointment shall be immediately published in the manner aforesaid, at the expense of such bank or banking association, to be collected in the manner above provided.

SEC. 8. Appointments of agents made in pursuance of this act, may be revoked and new appointments of agents made from time to time, by delivering such revocation and appointment to the bank comptroller, who shall cause the same to be published as before provided.

SEC. 9. It shall be lawful for any number of banks or banking associations, authorized by this act, to appoint an agent to associate together for raising a joint fund, to be placed in the hands of their common agent for the redemption of their circulating notes, in the city of Milwaukee or Madison, and also the circulating notes of other banks in such manner, and under such regulations as may be agreed upon, and to employ such agents and clerks as they may deem necessary to carry on the business of such common agency; but nothing in this section contained shall authorize the redemption or purchase by such agency of any circulating notes at a rate of discount greater than is herein provided for, nor relieve such banks from any duty or liability required or imposed by this act.

SEC. 10. Every such bank or banking association in this state, except such banks and banking associations as now are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall redeem and pay on demand, in the lawful money of the United States, all circulating notes issued by such banks or banking associations, presented for redemption at the office of the agent of such bank or banking association, during the usual hours of business of bankers, between the hours of ten and three o'clock, at a rate of discount not exceeding three-fourths of one per cent.

SEC. 11. Every bank or banking association, whose agent shall neglect or refuse to redeem its notes on demand, as aforesaid, shall, on proof being made to the bank comptroller of such neglect or refusal, by the affidavit of the person who presented said notes for redemption or payment, and on depositing in his office the notes so presented, be subject to the same penalties, and be proceeded against in the same manner, as is now provided by law for cases where the circulating notes of any bank or banking association are protested for nonpayment, unless the comptroller shall be satisfied that there is a good and legal defence against the payment of such notes.

SEC. 12. Every bank and banking association shall redeem its circulating notes as now provided by law, but in case of neglect or refusal to redeem its notes on presentation at its counter, and of protest therefor, such bank or banking association, if not located within the city of Milwaukee or the city of Madison, shall not be liable to the holder of such notes for damages: Provided, it shall within fifteen days after receiving notice from the comptroller to pay the same, redeem said notes in the lawful money of the United States, with interest at the rate of fifteen per cent per annum; Provided, that the officer or officers of such bank or banking association so neglecting or refusing to redeem its notes on demand, may endorse upon the bills or package of bills so presented, an acknowledgement of such presentation and refusal, and waiving protest upon the same; and such endorsement shall be held as evidence of the statement therein made.

SEC. 13. No bank or banking association shall hereafter receive upon the deposite of bonds, circulating notes to an amount exceeding three times its bona fide cash capital actually paid in, and the bank comptroller is hereby authorized and required to ascertain what the actual cash capital of any bank or banking association applying for circulation, except in exchange for mutilated bills, may be, and for this purpose he is authorized to examine any person on oath, and to compel answers under oath, from any officer or stockholder of any bank or banking association so applying, or any other person.

SEC. 14. No bank or banking association shall hereafter be organized in this state, nor shall any more circulating notes be issued to any bank or banking association in this state, unless said bank or banking association shall have a bona fide cash capital of at least fifteen thousand dollars actually paid in, which shall remain in such bank or banking association as capital, and employed in legitimate banking at the place where the bank is located; and it is hereby declared that the bonds deposited with the bank comptroller shall not be considered as any evidence of the existence of capital in any such bank or banking association, nor of the amount and extent of such capital; and it is hereby made the duty of the comptroller, before issuing any more circulating notes to any such bank or banking association now organized, or that shall be hereafter organized, except in exchange for mutilated notes, to satisfy himself by an examination under oath of an officer or stockholder of such bank or banking association that it has fully complied with the provisions of this section, and of the next preceding section of this act, and for the purposes of such examination the comptroller, or in his absence the deputy comptroller, is hereby authorized to administer oaths; Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to permit any bank to issue circulating notes to any greater amount than its nominal capital.

SEC. 15. From and after the first day of December next it shall not be lawful for any bank or banking association, banker, broker, company or corporation, to circulate or attempt to circulate, or to pay out as money, any bill, note or other evidence of debt, issued or purporting to have been issued by any bank, banking association, company, corporation or individual located or residing out of this state, unless said bill, or note or evidence of debt shall, for the last six months preceding such circulating or paying out, have been redeemable in the city of New York or Boston in current money of the United States, at a rate of discount not exceeding three fourths of one per cent; and the decision of the bank comptroller as to the rate of such discount shall be final and conclusive. Every bank or banking association, banker or broker, corporation or company, offending against the provisions of this section shall forfeit for each and every offense the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered with costs of suit in the name and for the use of any person who shall sue for the same and prosecute such suit to judgment in any court having cognizance thereof.

SEC. 16. Each and every person owning or holding stock in any bank or banking association, who shall sell, transfer or assign his stock or any portion thereof, in any such bank or banking association, shall be held, and remain for the term of six months from and after such sale, transfer or assignment, as aforesaid, personally liable to the amount of stock so as aforesaid sold, transferred or assigned by him for the payment of all the debts and liabilities of such bank or banking association, existing at the time of such sale, transfer or assignment.

SEC. 17. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of December, eighteen hundred and sixty-one.

SEC. 18. All acts or parts of acts conflicting with, or in any way contravening the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 19. At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, in the year 1861, at all the usual places of holding elections in this state, for the election of all officers required by law then to be elected, the question whether this act shall become a law and go into effect, or in any manner be in force, shall be submitted to the people, and if the same shall be approved by a majority of all the votes cast on the subject, it shall go into effect; otherwise, it shall not go into effect nor be in force.

SEC. 20. The votes cast on the subject specified in the last preceding section shall be by separate ballot, and shall have written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, on each of them, the words: "For Amendments to the Banking Law;" or "Against Amendments to the Banking Law," which words shall indicate the vote for or against the approval of this act; and the ballots so cast shall be canvassed and returned in the same manner as the votes cast for state officers are required by law to be canvassed, and the secretary of state shall immediately, on the completion of said canvass, publish a statement of the result thereof in the official state paper, and shall communicate the same to the next legislature at the commencement of the session, and he shall also deliver to the state treasurer a certified copy thereof, with a statement of the result of the canvass upon the subject immediately after the completion of the canvass.

Chapter 242, approved April 13, 1861; Chapter 1, Extra Session, approved May 25, 1861.

Said election to be conducted, the votes canvassed and returns made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 7 of the Revised Statutes of 1858.
